RUSH COUNTY MEN CAUGHT WITH BOOZE

Charley and Link Gruell of Near New Salem Arrested in Andersonville Wednesday Night

LATTER PLEADS GUILTY TODAY

Judge Tague Fines Him $100 and Adds Jail Sentence of 30 Days—Charley Out on Bond

Charley and Link Gruell, brothers living in the New Salem vicinity, were arrested late Wednesday, at the edge of Andersonville, in Franklin county, when officers from that county stopped the machine in which they were riding, and found liquor in their possession.

The two were taken to the jail at Brookville, and this morning were arraigned in the circuit court before Judge Cecil Tague, on charges of unlawful possession. Link Gruell entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was fined $100 and costs and given the minimum sentence of 30 days in jail.

Charley Gruell asked for a continuance in which to enter a plea, and it was granted. He was released on $1,000 bond and will be asked to appear in a few days to enter a plea.

C. W. Duncan, attorney of Rushville, was called to Brookville this morning as legal advisor for the two men.

According to the report from that city, the officers of Franklin county have entered upon a determined effort to wipe out the illicit trade among so-called bootleggers. It is said that Rush county men have contributed to the trade and have assisted in placing the "white mule" upon the market.

Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff H. C. Jones, and a posse of deputies, set their net along the Rushville-Brookville road and stopped several suspicious machines. The two Rush county men were under suspicion, it is said, and the deputy sheriff gave chase, and overtook them, just as they neared Andersonville.

It is said that the officer discovered two quarts and a pint of "moonshine" in the machine, and they were placed under arrest, and taken to Brookville.

The arrests were the first for Franklin county under the new state law, in which it makes a jail sentence compulsory even on the first offense. The second offense makes it a felony, or a prison sentence of from one to two years.

RAYMOND GREGG IS WITH STOCK COMPANY

Former Director of Little Theatre Society Accepts Position With Stuart Walker Players

OPEN IN CINCINNATI AT COX

Raymond C. Gregg of this city, until recently director of the Little Theatre Society of Rushville, has accepted a position with the Stuart Walker company, which opened an engagement for the spring and summer at the Cox theatre in Cincinnati last Monday.

Mr. Gregg will assist in making posters that will be used in front of the theatre and will be in charge of properties that are used in the plays.

The Stuart Walker company, which has played several summer engagements at the Murat theatre in Indianapolis, opened with "Adam and Eve" this week, and according to newspaper clippings that have been received here, won a most cordial reception from Cincinnati theatre patrons.

The Rushville young man became acquainted with Stuart Walker while he was a student in Herron Art Institute in Indianapolis and spent considerable time at the Murat theatre during the summers that the stock company has been playing there.

JUNE LIGHTFOOT SELECTED

Will Represent Sixth District High Schools In Music Contest

Miss June Lightfoot of this city, member of the Rushville high school team of three girls which won the county and sixth district music memory contest here, will represent the sixth district in the state contest to be held Saturday afternoon at the Manual Training high school in Indianapolis. It has been announced by Miss Sarah L. McConnell, supervisor of music in the Rushville schools, who is state chairman of the contest.

While teams of three were permitted to represent the high schools in the county and district contests only one contestant from each congressional district will be allowed to enter the state contest.

This applies not only to the high school section of the contest, but the grammar grades and rural schools division as well. A Carthage girl will represent the district grammar schools and a girl from Alexander school, the rural schools.

NAMED CHAIRMAN FOR RUSH COUNTY

William B. Brann to Have Charge of Local Activities in Connection With Training Camp

WILL BE AT CAMP KNOX AGAIN

William B. Brann has been appointed Rush county chairman to have charge of local activities in connection with the Civilian Military Training Camps that will be conducted again this summer by the government. The camp for the fifth army corps area, which includes Indiana, will be held at Camp Knox, Kentucky.

Rush county was represented by three young men at the military training camp last year, and it is expected that equally as great interest will be shown this year.

The age limit for men who have not attended a former camp ranges from 17 to 24 years and the top limit for those who have gone through a former camp is 27 years. Men who served in the late war up to the age of 35 may attend.

Mr. Brann's appointment came through John B. Reynolds of Indianapolis, civilian aide for the state of Indiana, working under Benson R. Hedges, of Columbus, O., civilian aide for the fifth corps area. More detailed information concerning the camp will be forthcoming soon, Mr. Reynolds states.

SWOLLEN STREAMS FLOOD FARM LANDS

Wabash and White Rivers Rise Out of Their Banks in Southern Indiana, Due to Heavy Rains

BOTH ABOVE FLOOD STAGE

Vincennes, Ind., March 22—Swollen from their banks by recent rains Wabash and White rivers flooded farm lands and roads in Southern Indiana today, with the Wabash sweeping over its banks into lowlands of Southern Illinois.

Backwaters from the upper basins swept into the lower channels, interfering with highway traffic and damaging farm crops.

White river at Hazelton rose five inches during the night, overflowing the Dixie Bee highway. At Elliston and other points upstream, a heavy rainfall caused further rise. White river at Decker was one foot above flood stage and still rising.

Wabash river here was at 17.5 and still rising. Flood stage before the levees were built was 21.2 feet. At Mt. Carmel the stage was 21.2 feet, 6.2 feet above flood stage.

AS PEOPLE SOW, SHALL THEY REAP

Ashes Always Fly in Face of Him Who Throws Them, Minister Points Out in Revival Sermon

TEXT FROM OLD TESTAMENT

The Rev. Gibson Wilson Says Careless Parents Sow to Wind in Neglecting to Train Children

As people sow, they shall reap, the Rev. Gibson Wilson pointed out in a sermon at the pre-Easter services at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, speaking on the subject, "Sowing The Wind and Reaping The Whirlwind," from the text, "They sow the wind and they shall reap the whirlwind," Hosea 8:7.

Drawing upon this Biblical text, he used many examples from life to drive home the lesson, the most notable of which was his comment on the practice of parents who sow to the wind in neglecting to train their children to fear and revere God.

There will be a meeting for women only Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Gerald E. Bonney will have charge of this meeting. Mrs. Bonney is a chorus director as well as her husband. She will also address the women. Special music by the women's chorus will be provided and all the women of the city are cordially invited to attend.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson spoke in part as follows:

There are many lessons taught in the Old Testament and so clearly presented that we should not fail to get their meaning for us. God is speaking to us as much through this part of his book as through the New Testament.

God's accusation against his people is that they have left him out of account.

"They have set up kings but not by me, they have made princes and I knew it not," They made idols of their silver and gold. His anger is kindled against them. It is the height of folly to arouse the anger of God. "He that soweth unto his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption," Gal. 6:8.

The farmer is now planning and arranging his fields in which he is to sow grain.

Here the field is the flesh, our own bodily life. They have been sowing ungodliness, and whatever form that ungodliness may take they are reaping corruption sorrow and shame.

"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." In this God's word has spoken a great truth for all ages.

This is a divine and universal law of nature.

Sow wheat and you reap wheat. Sow wild oats and you reap wild

BIG FOUR TRAFFIC DELAYED BY WRECK

Broken Axle on Freight Car Causes Nine Cars to be Derailed North of Carthage

PASSENGER TRAINS ANNULLED

Traffic on this division of the Big Four railroad was suspended today on account of a wreck, just north of Carthage, when nine cars left the track, and piled up on the right-of-way and tore up considerable trackage.

The wreck happened shortly after midnight, when a car in a south-bound freight train broke an axle, and as the result the nine cars piled up before the train could be brought to a stop.

The nine cars were heavily loaded with coal and lumber, and the contents were thrown along the track. No one was injured.

Wrecking crews were summoned, and all passenger trains this morning were annulled, including the 8:05 southbound, and the 11:20, northbound, and it was doubtful whether the wreckage would be cleared away in time for the evening trains.

BOYSCAMP TO OPEN THIS YEAR JUNE 11

Large Number of Boys Have Already Registered For The Camp at Turkey Run State Park

OFFER ATTRACTIVE PRICE

D. R. Merrell, Local Scout Leader, Will Have Charge of the Camp This Summer

The Boys' Camp at Turkey Run State Park in Western Indiana opens this year on June 11. This camp has for the past four years been under the management of D. R. Merrell, local scout leader. Mr. Merrell will again have charge of the camp this summer and he reports a large number of boys already registered for the camp, each of which covers a period of fourteen days.

Most of the openings, however, occur in the camp, which opens Monday, August 13, and runs till Monday August 27. This is really the best camp of the year and Mr. Merrell is offering it to the boys of Rushville and vicinity at the very attractive price of $12 for the fourteen days.

"Everyone knows of the wonderful scenery at Turkey Run," said Mr. Merrell today. "Great canons, large trees, water falls, beautiful roads, a splendid hotel, excellent swimming, boating and fishing constitute the main attractions. The country here is just as nature made it. One cannot realize the extreme beauty and the charm of exploring a country that is just as it was left by the Indians. An old hermit's home is on the grounds as is also an old mill made in solid rock and a coal mine.

"Two days of the camp is spent at the Shades of Death which is even more spectacular than Turkey Run. A visit is also made to the National Game Preserve at Bluff Mills. Here one may see all kinds of North American animals. The scenery here is also very spectacular and very beautiful. These places are considered Nature's Beauty Spots of the Central States."

Transportation to and from the camp is included in the cost. Everything is furnished at the camp except camp blankets and personal clothing. Here one has a chance to know boys from all over the United States, it is pointed out. Each Sunday brings band concerts and thousands of visitors.

Reservations for this camp must be made by March 31 if possible, Mr. Merrell states. Anyone interested should consult with Mr. Merrell at once. He will furnish any boy with reservation blanks, as well as a number of boys who are working with him. He is offering a free trip to the camp to the boy who gets the most reservation blanks filled. The blank states very plainly that $6 is to be paid by May 27 and the remaining $6 at camp time.

This camp is not to be confused with the Rushville Boys camp which is in charge of A. F. Cotton, physical training director in the local schools.

ARGUMENTS SET FOR APRIL 5

Evidence Concluded in Suit to Set Aside Two Deeds

The law suit heard all day Wednesday in the circuit court of John Kelley, Jr., against Russell Behout, et al., was concluded late in the afternoon, and the arguments in the case will be heard on April 5. The case was presided over by Judge John Craig of Greensburg, who was elected special judge to try the cause.

The suit was a complaint to have the court set aside deeds to two pieces of property, one a residence in Rushville and the other a 54-acre farm in this county. The property was alleged to have been conveyed in order to prevent collection of an account by the plaintiff.

No Justification For Increased Sugar Prices

(By United Press)

Washington, March 22.—No justification exists for the recent increase in the sugar prices, Secretary Hoover declared today in announcing that he had asked the federal trade commission to make an investigation of the sugar prices. "I have repeatedly stated there is no economic justification for the high price of sugar as there is an estimated world surplus," the secretary asserted.

ADVISED TO BUY SUGAR FROM HAND TO MOUTH

Consumers Warned by Rep. Dillinger, Mississippi, That Speculators Are at Work Again

WRITES SECRETARY HOOVER

Washington, March 22.—Consumers today were advised to buy their sugar on a hand to mouth basis by Representative Dillinger, Republican Mississippi in a letter to Secretary Hoover on the sugar situation.

Dillinger declared that the sharp increase in sugar in the last two weeks looked to him as though speculators who were responsible for the high prices during the war were at work now.

Prosecution of sugar gamblers who were alleged to have driven the price of sugar up three or four cents during the last few weeks were demanded of President Harding by the Peoples Legislative Service.

Some American refiners predict that unless the present speculative movement is checked the price will go to 20 cents a pound in June, the service said, adding:

"If this be true the American people will be robbed of $500,000,000 solely for the benefit of the sugar gamblers and profiteers."

The organization, headed by Basil Manley and backed by Senator La Follette, sent a telegram to the president charging that the sugar speculators are guilty of "a criminal conspiracy" to force up sugar prices and demand that he direct the department of justice to seek indictments immediately before a grand jury.

FRENCH ARE TIGHTENING UP

No One Permitted To Leave Ruhr Area At Night Except By Train

Cologne, March 22.—The cordon about the occupied areas was further tightened today when orders were made effective that no one shall leave the Ruhr or Rhineland after night fall, except by train.

Sentries along the roads leading from the occupied areas are ordered to turn back any one attempting to pass.

Watson As Harding Manager

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—According to a Washington dispatch to the Indianapolis Times, Senator James E. Watson is being boomed as President Harding's campaign manager in 1924.

Reports from Florida also mentioned Will H. Hays for the job. Watson has recently been in Florida but according to the dispatches does not intend to wait longer on Harding as "business affairs" call him to Washington.

The Watson boom is not taken seriously around republican national committee circles.

TWO KILLED IN ENCOUNTER

Dublin, March 22.—Free State troops today discovered and immediately attacked insurgents headquarters near Kingstown. After a brisk battle, in which a Free State soldier and a rebel were killed, and one wounded, five rebels and a large quantity of ammunition were captured. The insurgent nest at Kingstown, a short distance from Dublin, is believed to be that from which the irregulars have directed their sorties into the capital and many of their bombing outrages here.

GOVERNMENT ENDS ITS CASE TODAY

Counsel For Mayor Johnson of Gary and Other Defendants Move Dismissal of Accused

MOTIONS UNDER ADVISEMENT

Mrs. Mary Monti, Widow of Slain King of "Little Italy" Says She Bought Husband's Freedom

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—Government attorneys prosecuting Gary and Lake county officials and other defendants in what they regard as "the biggest booze conspiracy ever uncovered in the middle west" rested their case shortly before adjournment of federal court for lunch today.

Counsel for Mayor Roswell Johnson of Gary and other defendants immediately sought dismissal of all the accused persons represented by attorneys. Special Judge Ferdinand Geiger of Milwaukee took the motions under advisement.

District Attorney Homer Elliott suggested the dismissal of one of the sixty-three defendants against whom he had no evidence.

Near the close of the government's case, evidence was presented to prove that officials of the Calumet had a "planted" forged government search warrant on Phillip Ukman, star government witness, who testified he was beaten by Prosecutor Dwight Kinder and whipped by other officials with his own belt until he became unconscious and then was thrown into jail because he would not sign a statement to warrant the arrest of prohibition agents.

"Mayor Johnson witnessed the flogging," Ukman said.

Mrs. Mary Monti, widow of the slain king of Gary's "Little Italy" told of buying her husband's freedom from Blaz Lucas, an attorney, for $800.

"We gave him the money and there was no trial", she said while the court room was quiet. Gaspari Monti, the slain husband, who was to have shot the government's main bolt against the alleged conspiracy, was shot to death on the streets of Gary on the eve of the trial.

George Winkler, federal prohibition agent, told of threats he had heard City Judge William Dunn make against Ukman for the part he had taken in aiding the government to collect its evidence.

YEGGMEN'S LOOT IS ESTIMATED AT $4,000

Registered Mail And Stamps Stolen By Robbers Who Enter Bedford Postoffice During Night

ONE VAULT RESISTS ATTACK

(By United Press)

Bedford, Ind., March 22.—Registered mail and stamps having an estimated value of $4,000 were taken by yeggs who looted the Bedford postoffice last night and escaped.

Entering the building through a window, the robbers burned through the vault and two smaller doors inside the vault with an acetylene torch.

They attempted to burn through a small safe where most of the money and stamps were kept. One compartment in the safe where most of the money and stamps were kept was burglar proof and it withstood the attack.

Mrs. J. S. Ramsay, who lives next to the postoffice, looked out of her window at two o'clock. She saw two automobiles in front of the building and saw one man carry a sack out to the car. She thought they were postal employees and she went to sleep.

At 5:30 o'clock a clerk went on duty and discovered the robbery. The same methods were used that yeggs employed in looting the postoffices at Connersville and Columbus.

SAUNDERS TO COLLECT IN SUM OF $2,750,000

Gives Wall Street Until 3 p. m. To Settle On "Shorts" On Piggly Wiggly Stock

MARGIN OF $110 A SHARE

New York, March 22.—Wall street speculators who are still "short" will pay Clarence Saunders, Memphis, approximately $2,750,000 as a penalty for "hammering" his Piggly Wiggly stock on the New York stock exchange. Brokers and Wall street observers estimated today.

Saunders, in giving "the street" until 3 p. m. today to settle for $150 a share on 25,000 shares he claims are still short to him on delivery would collect a margin of $110 a share, on the basis of the $40 a share for which the stock was selling when he began operations a few days ago.

If the "shorts" refuse to settle on this basis and Saunders carries out his threat to put the price at $250 after 3 p. m. and collect through the courts, the total profit of course will be doubled. In addition to the amount Saunders claims is still unsettled millions of dollars are involved in his favor in increased value of the stock because of its more than doubling price. There are also thousands of shares, besides the 25,000 he claims still due on marginal accounts to others, it is declared.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH

Omaha, Neb., March 22.—Mrs. Ruby Murray, 33, was burned to death when her bed caught fire from a cigarette she was smoking last night. She had fallen asleep while smoking and when she awoke her clothing was ablaze. She died before medical aid reached her.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

IS FOUND DEAD ON A TRAIN

Former Head of Chain Stores, Under Investigation, Expires

Toledo, Ohio, March 22.—Leonard R. Steel, Jr., 42, of Gettysville N. Y., formerly head of the L. R. Steel Department Stores, Inc., died aboard a New York Central train enroute to Chicago shortly after midnight this morning. The body was taken from the train at Toledo at 2 a. m. Death was due to heart failure.

Buffalo, N. Y. March 22.—Affairs of the L. R. Steel chain stores have been under investigation for some time. Receivers were appointed a fortnight ago. L. R. Steel, Jr., who is 42 years old, and lived recently at Gettysville, N. Y., near here, gave up active control of the enterprises that bore his name some few weeks ago. He was reported from Gettysville to be suffering from hemorrhage following a severe attack of grippe.

Carl Sherman, state attorney general, yesterday asked the consent of receivers to have accountants from the state comptroller's office go over the L. R. Steel books and accounts. Gus B. Moore, district attorney stated today no evidence of any criminal procedure had thus far been disclosed.

GREETINGS SENT TO PRINCE

American Legion Cables Son of King of England

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—"Upon this occasion the American Legion extends greetings to the Prince of Wales" Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion today cabled the Prince, who has accepted the invitation of the London post of the Legion to attend its Carnival ball tomorrow.

"The hearts of the living and the spirits of the dead rejoice when veterans of our two great nations mingle together in happiness and fraternity" the cable continued. "May the day soon dawn when peace and good will shall reign upon earth; when war and discord shall be no more, and the nations of the earth shall dwell forever in peace. To you, distinguished and honored comrade-in-arms, in the name of the American Legion, I extend greetings."

TO REST CASE BY FRIDAY

Prosecution in Herrin Trial Hopes To Close This Week

Marion, Ill., March 22.—Attorneys for the prosecution in the second Herrin massacre trial were calling witnesses in rapid succession today in an effort to rest their case before adjournment of court Friday. The defense was expected to get started by next Monday.

George Nelson and Wm Goodman, Williamson county farmers, who received notes threatening violence because of their testimony for the state in the first trial, reiterated their charges that Otis Clark and Oscar Howard were leaders of the mob that killed 211 non-union workers on the morning of June 22.

SERMON SUBJECT TONIGHT

The subject of the sermon to be preached by the Rev. H. W. Hargett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, tonight will be "The Unanswerable Question." The subject of the pastor Wednesday night was "The Arrow Heads of Victory." Much interest is being shown in the revival and good sized crowds are attending nightly.

INDIANS AND POSSE CLASH

Renegade In Skirmish With Officers
Near Blanding, Utah

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 22.—Renegade Indians and a sheriff's posse clashed in another brief skirmish near Blanding during the night, here early today.

"Old Dutch," veteran indian warrior was seriously wounded, the report stated. One buck was shot and killed in a previous engagement.

The recalcitrant braves took to the mountains followed by a posse which liberated two young indians jailed on charges of stealing sheep. The indians have entrenched themselves in strongholds near Blanding, the report said.

Only 4,869 Left Out Of 28,000 Veterans In State In 1890

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—The Grand Army of the Republic is rapidly approaching extinction, according to A. J. Ball, assistant adjutant general of the Indiana department in a report made public today.

Only 4,869 are left of the 28,000 in Indiana in 1890, Ball said.

The number of posts in Indiana has decreased from 208 to 196 within the last year.

Plans are being made for the annual state encampment at Muncie, May 15-17.

GOVERNMENT ENDS

Blaz Lucas, Gary attorney and other defendants were present at the time Winkler said. The following day, according to the testimony, Ukman was arrested. Ukman testified Wednesday that it was when he was arrested without charge he was beaten at the police station.

"We should have killed Ukman before we sent him to the Crown Point jail," Nathan Potts, police sergeant and a defendant, said, according to testimony of Steve Mendish.

William Matthews, attorney for Ukman, said he went to the police station the night Ukman was arrested and demanded to see him.

"That's one — crooked — you never will see," Potts exclaimed, Matthews testified.

Other witnesses declared there was a deliberate plot to "frame" Ukman who was said to possess forged government search warrants when he was arrested. These warrants were "planted" on him, Ukman contended in his testimony.

Ralph Stagnmach, a defendant, showed a bunch of warrants about a week before Ukman's arrest and said he planned to "plant" them on Ukman, according to Eli Chulevick.

Tactics of defense counsel were carefully guarded. District Attorney Elliott who has had charge of the governments case brought several surprise witnesses into the case and belief was expressed that attorneys on the other side were grooming witnesses to refute the evidence.

The government shot its main point in the testimony of Philip Ukman, attorney who said Prosecutor Dwight Kinder and other defendant officials of the Calumet steel region assaulted him in presence of Mayor Roswell Johnson, who is charged with taking an important part in the conspiracy to protect bootleggers. Ukman was gathering evidence for the government at the time of the alleged assault.

"Most of our important witnesses have testified," Elliott said. "We plan to rest our case after the introduction of a little more evidence."

Indications were that the fate of sixty-three defendants, including some of the highest officials of Gary and Lake county, will rest with the jury early next week.

"Bevy" of Elephants Ready To Disembark

REGULAR NOAH'S ARK ARRIVES
In New York on the S. S. Mansa. About a hundred birds and beasts, most of them seacick, arrived from Germany, and what a howl arose when the animals were forced to walk the plank to shore. Everything from elephants to monkeys were on board, and they will be sent to zoos and circuses throughout the country. Photo shows a "bevy" of elephants ready to disembark.

Hunted Wild Beasts Together In Africa, And Now Want A Divorce

Four Times Delia Akeley Went With Her Husband Into The Wilds of Africa in Search of Big Game, But the Fifth Expedition Will End in Superior Court, Where Divorce Action is Pending

Chicago, March 22.—The first act in the romance of the Akeleys, best known of all jungle hunters, will be played in superior court here March 22, when the Carl E. Akeley divorce suit is heard.

Four times Mrs. Delia J. Akeley accompanied her husband, famous big game hunter and naturalist through the trackless jungles of Africa, establishing a name for herself as a wonderful shot and probably the most daring huntress of all times.

But on the fifth trip, Akeley braved fever, wild animals and exposure in the wilds of Africa without his wife. On his return last year, he filed suit for divorce on grounds of desertion. Mrs. Akeley filed a cross bill shortly after, alleging desertion previous to the date mentioned by her husband, July 1917.

The Akeleys were married in 1902 while Akeley was head of the Feld museum of Chicago. The couple started almost immediately for Africa to collect specimens for the museum.

On the first expedition Mrs. Akeley made a reputation for herself. For more than 1,000 miles across the heart of the "Dark Continent" she shared every danger and hardship with her husband. Time after time, together they braved death under the fangs of jungle beasts.

Four years later, on the next African trip, she saved her husband's life, in a battle with a lion. The only white woman for hundreds of miles, she nursed the seriously wounded naturalist back to health.

A few months later the adventure some wife shot and killed the largest elephant ever taken in Africa, by man or woman. In accomplishing this feat, they narrowly escaped with their lives.

The return to America, following each trip to the wilds of Africa, found both attracting universal attention. Akeley was "lionized" by scientific and socially prominent groups, lecturing from coast to coast. In spite of the urgings of her friends, the wife refused steadily to lecture on her experiences.

Steadily the civilian life of the two intrepid explorers and hunters grew apart until last year, Akeley left his wife behind while he went again into the wilds with Miss Martha Miller, his secretary; Mrs. Herbert Bradley, New York novelist; Bradley and the five-year-old Bradley child.

Akeley has just completed a lecture tour through the Far West and Mrs. Akeley is recovering from a serious illness, which confined her to her home in New York for the last several months.

Mrs. Akeley's attorneys declare the "Modern Diana", who braved the fiercest wild beasts and the most strenuous hardships to be with her husband through four African trips, will meet the hunter in the courtroom the day of the divorce trial.

INSTRUCTED TO TELL FALSEHOODS

Members of House of David Told to Lie if "Faith" Was Endangered, Witness Says

ISRAELITE HOUSE PROBED

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 22.—Further startling revelations of alleged immoral conduct by Benjamin Purnell, high priest of the House of David, were scheduled when the damage suit of Mr. and Mrs. John Hansel, Nashville, Tenn., against the Israelite institution was resumed in federal court here today.

Mrs. Ione Rosetta of Newark, N. J., told of the alleged system of mutual espionage imposed upon a girl and men inmates of the House of David. She said that King Benjamin warned the girls that revelation of occurrences in the "House" to outsiders was the greatest of all sins. She said she had been instructed to tell untruths when the safety of the "faith" stood in danger of investigation.

Mrs. Rosetta testified she was a party to a "group" marriage, and was forced to pick her husband at the command of King Benjamin.

"Who compelled you to marry?" Mrs. Rosetta was asked.

"Mary Purnell, wife of the king", she replied.

"How many of you were married at the same time?"

"Twelve couples."

Emil Rosetta, husband of Mrs. Rosetta, testified he believed in the "faith" up until about a year after his marriage when his wife confessed to him that during the preceding year Benjamin had been guilty of misconduct toward her. He said he never saw a marriage license and while at the House of David he and his wife lived as brother and sister.

Rosetta told of many meetings between Benjamin and girls at which, he charged, the king made improper advances.

HOW TO WORSHIP:—God is the Spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth.—John 4: 24.

Economy in Government

Appropriations of the federal government for the fiscal year 1924 will total nearly $234,000,000 less than for the fiscal year 1923, the reduction being accomplished notwithstanding the fact that the 1923 appropriations marked an enormous decrease over the year 1922.The care with which the executive departments and the budget bureau prepared their estimates of the amounts needed is evidenced by the fact that when congress passed the appropriation bills the net decrease of appropriations as compared with the estimates was less than one per cent of the total amount requested.
That is the sort of business manage-ment that gives assurance to the American people that the affairs of their government are in the hands of competent and conscientious men.But it is not alone in the reduction of the total amount of appropriations that improvement is seen in the manner of conducting the public business. For many years it has been the practice of the executive departments to send in their regular estimates and then after congress has met and after public attention has been diverted from the estimates, send in supplemental estimates running into the hundreds of millions. Under the budget system, which the last congress enacted and which the administration has put into practical effect, the aggregate of supplemental estimates submitted to the recent session of congress was only slightly more than one million dollars. Any business man will agree that it takes exceedingly good management and a high order of business ability to make estimates several months in advance which later require to revision of only onethirtieth of one percent.All this has not been accomplished without hard work. It has required close attention on the part of the heads of the administrative bureaus, on the part of the director of the budget, and on the part of the appropriation committees of both Senate and House. Moreover, it has required faithful adherence to the pledge of economy on which the Congress was elected in 1920.

The Confidential Librarian

A woman librarian has adopted this rule: "Never discuss with a third person the literary tastes of a patron." She explains:"It would be just as unethical for me to tell you what one of my patrons reads as it would be for a physician to discuss your ailments in public.""Your choice of books tells to much about you. If I know what you read, I can tell pretty well what sort of person you are."It is a good rule, and the librarian quoted deserves credit for her keen sense of professional honor. But the chief point of interest is not her ethics but her psychological reasoning: "If I know what you read, I can tell what sort of person you are."That swings the responsibility from the librarian to the library patron. By his reading you shall know the reader. It is a test of friends, family, self. And it is a pretty fair test.We would willingly be judged by what he has read the past winter?
Or by the lack of reading, if he has read nothing?

SCHOOLS TURN TO TRACK MEETS NOW

With Basketball Season Over, Athletes Begin Training For Field and Track Sectionals

WRESTLING TOURNEY IN APRIL

Newest Sport is Undeveloped and Second Annual Event is Planned—Some Turn to Baseball

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22—Now that the basketball season is over, the high school athletes of Indiana are turning their attention to track and field athletics and baseball. To be sure, there will be the state high school wrestling championships to be held in April at the Indiana University gymnasium in Bloomington, but wrestling is still a new branch of athletics among the Hoosier high schools. The meet at Bloomington will be the second annual wrestling meet of the Indiana high schools, and some good mat men should be developed among the prep schools.

While baseball is always popular with athletes of high school age there is always the handicap at many schools of not having nine boys who can play the game. To be sure, the larger schools have plenty of material from which to develop baseball teams. Technical high school of Indianapolis, which has more students than any other school in the state, has always either been champion, or close to that honor, since baseball was started at the Green and White school.

In track athletics it is different. Should a small high school with only a few boys enrolled have only one first class athlete, that young man might carry the colors of his school to victory through the sectional meet and even to first honors in the state meet in some events. The little school while not developing a well balanced track and field squad that can win most points in the state meet has a chance to score points and this caused more interest to track and field athletics in Indiana high schools than is taken in baseball.

Triple Winners in Olympics

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York March 22—Double winners have been many in Olympic game competition, triple winners have been occasional, but the feat of A. C. Kraenzlein, the American star, who won four events at Paris in 1900 never has been duplicated.

From the present outlook it will not be duplicated next year in Paris.

Kraenzlein won the sixty meters dash, the 110-meters hurdles, the 200-meters hurdles and the broad jump.

From a numerical point of view, perhaps his is the outstanding accomplishment of an athlete in competition with the world. Jim Thorpe made the greatest of all records in Stockholm, but his marks were never put on the books, because he played a game of baseball once.

Equally meritorious and perhaps even more was the record made by Ray Ewry, the American jumper, who dominated the standing jumping events in four Olympic meets.

Ewry won the high jump, the broad jump and the triple jump in 1900 in Paris and 1904 in St. Louis. He won the broad jump and the high jump also at Athens in 1906 and in London in 1908.

Hannes Kolehmainen, the veteran "Flying Finn", was a triple winner in 1912 when he won the cross country race and the 5,000 and 10,000 meter runs.

Other Americans who achieved a triple triumph were Hahn, who won the 60, 100 and 200 meters dashes in 1904, and Hillman, winner of the 400 meters run and the 200 and 400 meters hurdles.

Eddie Collins was the worst ball player, Monte Cross, former shortstop of the Athletics, ever saw but Eddie was playing short when Cross saw him and he had found his place at second.

"Connie Mack introduced me to Collins," Cross said recently, "and he asked me to take him out and see what he could do. I looked him over and told him that he might have been great in college, but he would never do in fast company. He could hit and he was fast with his hands. He was much faster with his head and it was his intelligent playing that commanded our attention. Connie decided to shift him over to second base. He stopped fighting the ball and— you know the rest."

Collins at that time was known officially as "young Sullivan."

TRAINING CAMP GOSSIP

New Orleans—With a mixed team of regulars and rookies, the New York Yankees dropped again before the New Orleans Southern Association club by a score of 3 to 1. Ruth got one double in 3 times up. None of the regular pitchers were used.

Clearwater, Fla.—After failing to meet the Cleveland Indians yesterday through a misunderstanding in the schedule, the Brooklyn Robins were to have a light session today and engage the Boston Braves tomorrow. Captain Sach Wheat joined the team last night.

Augusta, Ga.—The Detroit Tigers will begin a series of exhibition games today when they clash with the Augusta club at Waynesboro. Manager Cobb denied reports he planned to trade Veach and Flagstead, outfielders, to Washington for Sam Rice.

Orlando, Fla.—Benny Deever, Red rookie, arrested here yesterday at request of Fort Dowell, Calif., authorities for being absent from the army without leave, today returned to practice with the Cincinnati club assuming responsibility for his presence in California when desired.

Lakeland, Fla.—Today the Cleveland Indians meet the Cincinnati Reds at Orlando for the third time. The Ohio teams will play off their tie of one apiece.

Seguin, Tex.—The New York Giants showed world's championship class in defeating the Chicago White Sox here 4-0. Both managers used several rookie pitchers during the match. The Giants-White Sox series now stands one and one.

Avon, Calif.—The first jump in the Chicago Cub's spring exhibition series was taken today, when team left for Los Angeles. The Cubs will be on the road until a couple of days before the season opens.

Hot Springs, Ark.—The Pirates will make another attempt today to start the first practice game cancelled yesterday on account of rain. The athletes remained indoors for the most part of the day.

Leesburg, Fla.—The Phillies were back in their camp today after going to Bradenton to lose to the Cards yesterday 17-5. Art Fletcher, after losing the second game to the Cards ordered "more work".

Montgomery, Ala.—Connie Mack's A team lost to the Milwaukee Brewers, 2-0, in an exhibition game yesterday, while the B team journeyed to Tuscaloosa and turned in a 13-2 victory over the University of Alabama nine.

Tampa, Fla.—Nick Altrock, famous comedian of the Senators, may be missing from the coaching lines this season, where for years his antics have been a cause of merriment to fans. Manager Bush probably will appear regularly at the third base line and coach Gibson is expected to hold down the opposite corner.

New York.—Aspirants for the Davis Tennis cup increased to 17 when the challenge of Spain was received by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. This is a new record.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 22—With a few notable exceptions, all of baseball's dissatisfied are back in the fold and the holdout army has been reduced almost to a squad.

Jack Bently, the $65,000 Baltimore player, is the most conspicuous of the holdouts and it begins to look as if the star pitcher and first baseman meant it, when he said he would never play unless the Baltimore club paid him part of the pile the Giants turned over for him.

Although McGraw has been quoted as saying that he believed Bently should be given a part of his purchase price, the Giant leader is looking among the other youngsters in the camp for a southpaw to help out Art Nehf.

Zach Wheat, the trusty old Brooklyn outfielder, is making good his threat to stay away from the Robins until Charley Ebbets gives him a better contract. Ebbets has used the old "I'll trade you" threat, and he also has fallen back without effect on the other bromide—"play for me or starve".

Brooklyn also has Andy Heh, a promising young infielder, to get back into the fold.

"Pop" Gleason has Eddie Collins listed as a holdout, but the greatest of all the second basemen denies that he is a member of the group, and insists that he has merely been delayed in reporting.

The White Sox blamed the Yankees for getting Collins dissatisfied by starting a lot of trade talk and then failing to go through with it. The Sox officials claim that the American League champions never made a serious attempt to get Eddie away from his Chicago job.

WOMEN'S TENNIS GAME IS SUFFERING SLUMP

American Fans Haven't Had A Look At Anything International Since Visit Of Susanne

BRITISH GIRLS ARE SOUGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 22—Since the memorable visit of Mlle. Susanne Lenglen two years ago, American fans haven't had a look at anything international in the way of women's tennis.

The need of new color to stir up interest in the woman's game here was shown last summer, when the Forest Hills championship were almost a flivver.

Necessity to show new faces in the title matches this coming season has led the national associations to go after some of the star British girls and it is more than probable that two or three of the English stars will appear at Forest Hills.

The association will not comment more than to admit that the star woman players of the other side have been invited to compete for the Wightman cup, a trophy offered by the former Miss Hazel Hitchkiss to take the place of the Davis cup in woman's competition.

The cup was offered two years ago but it has never been placed in competition. The difficulties that women players experience when they are forced to do a lot of travelling was the biggest reason for the delay in getting the trophy up for actual competition.

Princeton, N. J.—Because of scholastic conflicts, Princeton has refused permission to "Buddy" Knepper to accompany the American amateur golf team on its invasion of England this spring. Jesse Sweetzer the amateur champion, has also been denied a leave by Yale.

Mrs. A. J. Britt entertained with a dinner party Wednesday at high noon at her home in Glenwood. The guests were Mrs. Thomas Bishop and son Thomas, Mrs. Charles Newhouse, Mrs. James Fisher, Mrs. A. P. Reynolds, Miss Clara Dora and Mrs. J. E. Walther.

Mrs. O. M. Smith entertained with a six o'clock dinner party Wednesday evening at her home in this city honoring her two sons, Roy Smith, a railroad engineer on the C. I. & W. railroad and L. H. Smith, of Milwaukee, Wis., district representative of Briggs and Stratton Electrical Company. It was the first time in five years that the two brothers had seen each other.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knecht and family entertained Sunday at their home near Mays with a high noon dinner party, honoring Mrs. Knecht's birthday. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Gardner and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dearinger, Mr. and Mrs. William Knecht, Sr. Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Shauck, and the Misses Opal and Lolita Stiers, and Mrs. Herbert Gilson of Toledo, Ohio.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

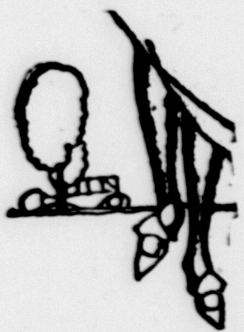

IF MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

STILLS IN SCHOOLS ARE NOT ILLEGAL

R. C. Minton, Legal Advisor Of Indiana Prohibition Enforcement Officer Gives An Opinion

TRUSTEE RAISES QUESTION

State Board Of Education Will Be Asked To Rule On Question, State Superintendent Says

High schools possessing stills for use in chemistry classes can go on their courses, because they are not violating the state prohibition law, in the opinion of R. C. Minton, head of the legal department of the federal prohibition department in Indiana, who was asked to express himself on the legality of the practice, when the question was raised by a township trustee.

E. G. Schumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, expressed the view Wednesday that the use of the stills was clearly a violation of the Indiana dry law, but was contradicted by Mr. Minton.

"No one can be convicted for violation of the prohibition law by merely possessing a still," Mr. Minton explained. "Sec. 2 of the Indiana law does provide that the possession of a still is prima facie evidence that the holder is violating the prohibition law, but in order to obtain a conviction other evidence must be presented proving that the still was used for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor."

Mr. Minton said he had made a search of the statutes and could find no ruling whereby the small stills or retorts used in school laboratories are regarded as "stills" within the meaning of the prohibition laws. Mr. Minton added, however, that the large water stills used in the high schools and colleges to produce distilled water are regarded as stills within the meaning of the Federal law which requires registration.

"But this law was in force long before prohibition," Mr. Minton declared. "The law requiring the registration of all stills with the Federal government was passed in 1868."

Benjamin J. Barris, state superintendent of public instruction said that he is to make an investigation of the still question in the schools and that the question would likely be presented to the next meeting of the state board of education April 10 for the adoption of some ruling.

Mr. Barris said he would ask for a legal opinion from Attorney General U. S. Lesh and that the state board ruling, if action is taken, will be based on the opinion of the state legal department.

As there is no "criminal intent" in the distilling of spirits in school laboratories it is not likely that enforcing officers will take any notice of the practice in such schools as continue to use this as an experiment in teaching chemistry.

It might be, however, that the state board of education, following the policy adopted by the chemistry departments of the Indianapolis high schools may adopt a ruling prohibition these experiments in the high school classes for the reason that the knowledge might tempt the youths to take a fling at "home brewing" or illicit manufacture of booze.

"In the enforcement of the prohibition laws the criminal intent is always taken into consideration," Mr. Minton declared, in referring to the question of school stills. "As there is no criminal intent in the use of stills in the schools, it is clear that their use would not constitute a violation of the prohibition laws."

Mr. Minton was asked if the act of distilling alcoholic spirits from fermented fruit juices in the class room would be an offense. This was the question raised by a township trustee in a letter to the state board of accounts.

Mr. Minton said he did not believe that intoxicating liquor could be manufactured in the small stills or retorts used in the classrooms. But in the event that spirits were made in the classroom as an experiment there would be lacking the "criminal intent," he pointed out.

ALL BUT ONE OF FAMILY WIPED OUT BY DRUG EVIL

Story Revealed When Mrs. Ella Robinson Kills Mother And Then Takes Her Own Life

TELL-TALE NEEDLE MARKS

Chicago, March 22.—The history of how all but one of a once prominent family have been wiped out through the drug evil, was revealed here today with the murder of Mrs. Ella Woolson, 72, and suicide of her daughter, Mrs. Edna Robinson.

Notes found when authorities broke into the room where the two bodies lay told of a death pact reached when the two women were to be separated because of use of drugs. Mrs. Robinson had cut her mother's throat with a razor and then slashed her own.

Numerous tell-tale marks of the hypodermic needle were found on wrists of both bodies.

Authorities had insisted that the daughter leave her mother and spend all of her time at the Wesley Memorial hospital in an effort to bring about a cure of the drug habit. The mother was to be taken to the home of her son.

The tragedy culminated years of fruitless struggle against narcotics. Twenty-five years ago Mrs. Woolson's husband, Dr. Charles Woolson, a leading physician of Buffalo, N. Y., killed himself. His wife came to Chicago with her three children.

A few years later, Howard, the youngest, committed suicide.

No reason for the deed was given at the time.

Edna, the only daughter, married J. A. Robinson, a merchant. Their first child died, poisoned from drugs through nursing at its mother's breast. Robinson a year ago was sent to the Kankakee asylum, a raving maniac from the use of opiates.

Another son, William, married and moved away, leaving his mother and sister in the home where they were found dead last night. Dope he said, was behind the family tragedy from the time of his father's suicide.

FRANCE'S AIR POWER NOT SEEN AS MENACE

Leader Of British Labor Party Is Quoted Following Discussion On Question In Parliament

BRITISH INFERIOR IN AIR

London, March 22.—"I do not consider France's air power a menace to England at the present time," Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor party, declared in a statement to the United Press today.

MacDonald's statement was apropos of debates in the houses of parliament last night when lords and commons discussed with professions of uneasiness the growing air power of the French and British inferiority.

Lords Carson, Grey, Haldane and Birkenhead urged concentration of a big British air force to meet the French superiority. While most of the speakers professed little fear of war with England's neighbor, all urged that Britain should at least be on a par with a country which owed her so much money.

This morning's press was unanimous in urging a larger air force for this country, with the exception of the labor papers.

CONVICTED FOR MURDER

ROB FAST FREIGHT TRAIN

Philadelphia, March 22. — Six masked and heavily armed bandits held up a fast freight of the Philadelphia and Reading between Oreland and Camp Hill, Pa., late last night, uncoupled the engine, looted a car and escaped with a truck load of merchandise. Three suspects found near the scene of the robbery are held for investigation.

The Loyal Daughters Class of the Main Street Christian church will hold an exchange Saturday morning in the American Security Company's room in East Second street.

TO REOPEN PLANS FOR DEBT PAYMENT

United States Will Make New Suggestions to Allies About Paying What They Owe

SIX BILLIONS REMAIN DUE

This Country Will Not Hasten Matters, But Will Seek Payment on Basis of British Terms

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 22—New negotiations for payment of the remaining $6,400,000,000 the allied nations owe the United States will soon be undertaken.

France, Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia and others may be informed, it was learned at the treasury department today, that this government is prepared—in view of the British arrangement—to proceed further with the task of refunding.

While there is no disposition of this government to hasten negotiations with nations which have not yet paid, members of the refunding commission declare that its proper remaining debtors should be invited to negotiate on the basis of the British settlement or to suggest terms.

There is every chance that some of the nations at least will accept this opportunity, officials believe. France had contended—in negotiations undertaken last summer—that her financial condition was such then that she would be unable to pay immediately.

A satisfactory settlement of the Ruhr situation might encourage resumption of the negotiations, it was thought. France owes $3,750,000,000 and if the amount was funded, there would remain only a little more than $2,600,000,000 outstanding.

Secretary of the treasury Mellon expects to place in the hands of the British ambassador here today the final draft of the British contract. This will be communication to London and then a formal final draft will be made as approved.

The British have notified Mellon they will pay the full $23,000,000 due this year and will not make use of the optional clause which would permit them to carry over part of this amount.

Funding of the $9,000,000 Finnish debt is expected to be concluded within a week.

TWENTY-FIVE years of indigestion was ended for her when she took Tanlac, declares Mrs. M. F. Streeter, well known resident of Newark, in remarkable statement to the public.

"Tanalac has made me feel like a new person and I wouldn't be without it," declared Mrs. M. F. Streeter, 273 S. 9th St., Newark N. J.

"Off and on for twenty-five years I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. My food disagreed with me and often I could hardly retain a thing. Gas bloated me till my heart palpitated so badly I feared I had heart disease. My nerves were on edge, I couldn't sleep, suffered awful headaches and was simply all worn out.

"But five bottles of Tanlac put me in the finest health. I eat hearty without trouble afterwards, sleep soundly and have no more nervousness or headaches. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanalac is sold by all good druggists.

BLOSSOMING SEASON OF THE POPULAR FLOWERS

The following table of the blooming season of the more common and popular annuals will give a hint as to when seeds should be planted early. The season is based on their normal bloom from seed planted in the open ground as soon as workable, when otherwise the abbreviation (Tr.) will indicate that they are transplanted from early sowing either in the house, frame or from a greenhouse:

Asters—July to October.
Ageratum—June to frost.
Alyssum—June to frost.
Antirrhinum (snapdragon)—June to frost (Tr.).
Aretotis—June to frost (Tr.).
Balsam—June to September.
Cosmos—June to frost (Tr.).
Celosia (coxeomb)—June to September.
Calliopsis—July to September.
Centauria (bachelor's button)—May to September.
Chrysanthemum, annual—August to October.

Canary bird vine—June to frost.
Calendula—June to frost (Tr.).
Cardinal climber—July to frost (Tr.) recommended.

Cypress vine—July to frost.
Dianthus (pinks)—July to frost.
Dimorphotheca (orange daisy)—June to frost (Tr.).
Datura—August to frost.

Delphinium (larkspurs)—June to frost.
Dolichos (hyacinth bean)—July to frost.

Everlastings (straw-flowers)—August to frost.
Escholtzia (Cal. poppy)—July to frost.

Gaillardia, annual—July to frost.
Godetia—June to frost.
Gypsophila, annual—June to frost.

Helianthus (sunflower)—August to frost.
Heliotrope—May to frost (Tr.).
Hummemannia (bush poppy)—August to frost.

Lobelia—May to frost (Tr.).
Lupins, annual—August to Sept.

Marigolds—June to frost (Tr.).
Mignonette—July to Sept.

Mirabilis (four o'clock)—July to frost.
Morning glory—July to frost.

Nasturtium—July to frost.
Nicotiana—July to frost.
Nigella (love in a mist)—July to Sept.

Pansy—May to frost (Tr.).
Petunia—May to frost (Tr.).
Phlox Drummondii—May to frost (Tr.).
Poppy—May to August.

Portulaca—July to frost.

Rudbeckia (annual cornflower)—July to Sept.

Salpiglossis—June to Sept. (Tr.).
Statice—July to August.
Salvia—May to frost (Tr.).
Scabiosa—July to frost.

Stocks—June to frost (Tr.).
Sweet peas—May and June (Tr.).
Schizanthus—June to frost (Tr.).
Torenia—July to Sept.

Vinca, bedding—July to frost.
Viola, bedding—June to frost.
Virginia stock—May to frost, successive sowings.

Verbena—May to frost (Tr.).
Wallflower, annual—September-October.

Zinnia—June to frost (Tr.).
Continuous bloom in all cases is dependent upon keeping the fading flowers picked and seed pods from forming. This is particularly true of such annuals as larkspurs and annual poppies, whose blooming season is brief if seeds are allowed to mature. Some annuals have a short season of bloom, to be renewed by successive sowing, such as the brilliant edging annual, Virginia stock.

WOMEN SPEND MORE ON THEIR EASTER FINERY

Women of America are spending approximately fifteen percent more on their Easter finery this year than last.

United Press dispatches from cities in all parts of the country today told of an unusual rush of spring shopping.

Modistes of Fifth Avenue, New York, say that while Egyptian modes are available in abundance, and undoubtedly will be worn by thousands many buyers are now swinging away from these styles.

The big New York stores are doing "better than would be expected from the weather" and sales show an increase of about 13 percent over last year.

Despite Boston's winter weather a slight increase is shown. In the matter of styles, Egypt and the second empire are running a close race. Sales are slightly heavier in San Francisco and the Egyptian craze is noticeable in novelties.

St. Louis sales are reported a little heavier than last year.

All leading "Loop" stores in Chicago report a substantial increase over last year. Marshall Field and Company said buying is heavy despite cold weather and early Easter. Increases are estimated at 10 percent.

In Philadelphia a 15 percent increase is reported by the large department stores. Egyptian collars are being bought by women in large numbers.

Easter buying is ten percent greater this year in Kansas City as compared to last year.

"Very much bigger than last year" is the way Detroit store managers described this year's Easter buying. Buying started earlier and is 10 percent heavier in Oklahoma City. In New Orleans this year's buying exceed 1920, which was the heaviest sales year in the history of the city.

SOCIETY MAN ARRESTED

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—Society in this city is said to be scandalized over the arrest of Frank Richards, 32 living in a fashionable north side section on a charge of operating a blind tiger. Police who made the arrest said they found nine gallons of wine, a gallon and a half of kimmel, and a supply of other liquors and beer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I was weak and run-down and had trouble with my side. I had been taking medicine for a long time and nothing seemed to do me any good. My husband went to the drug store and he said to the clerk, 'I want the best medicine you have for women's troubles.' He gave him a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it has helped me. In a short time I was able to do my housework, and now I am not only able to do every bit of that and washing and ironing, but I help my husband at the store and feel good all the time."—Mrs. L. K. MYERS, 1409 E. 14th St., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Keene, N. H.—"I was weak and run-down and had backache and all sorts of troubles which women have. I found great relief when taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I also used Lydia E. "The Bootleggers" Here Friday

"The Bootleggers" is coming to town. There may be several here now, but the Mystic Theatre is responsible for the announcement that the new film sensation, "The Bootleggers," will be the attraction on Friday only.

A great deal of importance is attached to this engagement as the bootlegging subject is now universally discussed and the menace of it has indeed become serious.

How a young naval aero officer ran the gang leader down is one of the most thrilling stories ever filmed. The chase covers land, sea and in the air, and the death-defying episodes are a revelation.

The cast of "The Bootleggers" is headed by well-known stars, including Paul Panzer (famous star of "The Perils of Pauline"), Walter Miller (remembered from "The Stealers"), and Norma Shearer.

Do not miss this extraordinary attraction. It's a clean picture for the whole family.

At Princess Again Today

A local event of considerable importance in the photoplay world took place yesterday at the Princess Theatre, with the first presentation in this city of Laurette Taylor in a screen version of her most famous role, the title part of "Peg O' My Heart." The brilliant star of the stage was seen by many for the first time at "Peg," and to these especially the occasion was a memorable one. In its celluloid form the celebrated play by J. Hartley Manners is destined to win new greatness; and the charming star an even greater renown. The picture will be shown again today.

Miss Taylor's "Peg" is a decided contribution to screen artistry. It is an effective reply to those who continually clamor "what's wrong with the movies?" The next time picture fans hear that complaint, send the knocker to see Laurette Taylor in "Peg O' My Heart." If he doesn't come away singing the praises of all concerned in the making of this photoplay as an art, he is either blind or a moron.

Once again "Peg" lives on the screen. Once again hundreds of thousands will thrill to the woes of little Peg, and once again will they rejoice with her in her happiness. For Peg is back again, and she is destined to stay a long while.

AS PEOPLE SOW, SHALL THEY REAP

oats. Sow sparingly and you reap sparingly.

We always expect to reap more than we sow but of the same kind.

I have seen the name of parks written in living green because the seed was sown to form the letters.

Our daily acts are the seeds which we sow and by them we are writing our name. We can now tell the form our name is taking. We are either writing the name of Jesus or the Devil into our life.

"They that plow iniquity and sow wickedness shall reap the same." The increase will probably be sixty, or seventy or a hundred fold.

The description of such people is found in the first Psalm. "They are like the chaff which the wind driveth away. They, the ungodly, shall not stand in the judgment nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous."

Our text does not say sow to the wind, but the thing which they have been sowing is the wind.

"The wind" denotes the vanity and nothingness of human effort. They weary themselves to no purpose. Their labor is more than lost, it is vain, injurious.

When harvest comes they are grieved, disappointed and reap only ruin.

"The whirlwind" is the wrath of the Lamb as described in Revelation 6:16. It takes the descriptive form of a tempest from which the people hide themselves in caves and rocks of the mountains and cry to the mountains and rocks "Fall on us."

As the whirlwind of the desert sweeps along and carries destruction with it, so does sin with its increasing power.

The Children of Israel sowed the wind when they built the golden calf at Horeb. And today the memory of their deed is a standing grief to Jehovah and a warning to the world.

They reaped the whirlwind later when the ten tribes were carried to Assyria and the two tribes to Babylon. The result of the turning from God was the whirlwind of captivity.

Kings and rulers who forget God sow the wind. Thus did Pharaoh when he tried to thwart God's plan with Israel in Egypt. Thus did Ahab when he married the idolitrous, unbelieving, wicked Jezebel who slew the prophets of God.

Careless parents sow to the wind when they forget to train their children in the fear of God. Eli forgot his sons while he was so absorbed in his own great work.

Wicked men and women, prodigals who waste their substance in riotous living are among those described in this text. They are sowing the wind. Without a question they will reap the whirlwind.

Unbelievers are sowing to the wind. Among these are men and women of good moral character who leave out Jesus Christ.

Here must be placed those who have no place for God in their thinking.

In this class must be placed those who would try to climb into heaven by some other way.

They "shall eat the fruit of their own way." Their destruction shall come as a whirlwind.

The Man Christ Jesus is the only refuge God has provided.

A show of religion without substance will not help.

Flee to this refuge or you will fall by your own wickedness.

Hanan was hanged on the gallows he had erected for Mordecai.

The enemies of Daniel met death in the den of lions where they expected to put Daniel to death.

The men of Babylon formed a social compact to defeat God's purpose and were themselves scattered.

Pope Alexander VI died of poisoned wines intended for his guests. "Ashes always fly in the face of him who throws them."

Our conclusion is this. There is a close connection between this life and the next. Then as we hope to reap let us sow the seed.

NOTICE OF BOND SALE.

Notice is hereby given that at 3:00 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, April 11, 1923, at the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, at Rushville, Indiana, Henry W. NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned that the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, at the office of the Auditor in Rushville, Indiana, will receive sealed proposals for the Harry McManus et al Highway, as set out in the plans and specifications, profiles and requisitions now on file in the office of the Auditor.

Said sealed proposals will be opened and the contract awarded for said improvement on the 14th day of April, 1923.

Bids or proposals will be received up to 10 o'clock A. M. on said date. The said improvement is located in Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana, and more particularly known as the Harry McManus et al Highway.

The estimated cost of said improvement is $20,870.00.

Bids will be for the completion of the said improvement in accordance with the plans, profile and specifications in the office of the Auditor and shall include all labor and material for said work. In no case will extra compensation be allowed for any additional work alleged to have been done by the contractor or contractors to whom is awarded the contract.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a personal or surety bond in the sum equal to double the amount of the bid filed for the work bid on, to be approved by the Board of Commissioners. Said bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the work; the sureties, if personal, shall be resident free holders of the State of Indiana, one of whom shall be a resident of Rush county.

Said bond shall be for the benefit of any person, persons or corporation who shall suffer any loss or damage by reason of any such bidder failing or neglecting to enter into a contract to perform such work awarded on the bid or to carry out the same in any particular or to pay for any labor or material which may have been furnished to any such contractor or contractors or to any sub-contractor, agent or superintendent under him, in the construction of said work.

Said contract will be let as a whole to the lowest responsible bidder upon affidavit of noncollusion, which must be submitted with the bid, and upon failure to submit such affidavit such proposal or bid will be rejected and the board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Time for the completion of said work will be agreed upon after the letting of said contract by the Commissioners and successful bidder.

PHIL WILK, Auditor, Rush County, Indiana.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given by Henry W. Beckner as Trustee of Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana, that at 10:00 o'clock A. M. on WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1923, at the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, in Rushville, Indiana, he will receive sealed proposals for the construction of a school building in Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana.

At the same time and place bids will also be received for the installation of (a) The installation of heating and ventilating system; (b) plumbing and sewerage system and (c) electrical work, all in accordance with the plans and specifications heretofore adopted and approved by said Trustee and the Advisory Board of said township, which plans and specifications are now on file in the office of said Trustee and of the State Board of Accounts.

The estimated cost of the proposed building completed is $49,000.00. All bids must be in writing on forms prescribed by the law of the State of Indiana, and delivered to said Trustee on or before the time mentioned herein. Each bid on the general construction shall be accompanied by a certified check for $500.00, payable to said Trustee; each bid for the heating and ventilating contract shall be accompanied by a certified check for $300.00; each bid for the plumbing and sewerage disposal shall be accompanied by a certified check for $200.00; each bid for the electric wiring shall be accompanied by the certified check for $100.00. These checks to be held by said Trustee as a guarantee of good faith that the bidders will enter into a contract and execute a bond for the full amount of his bid, approved by said Trustee and Advisory Board, for the due performance thereof, if his bid is accepted. The checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned when the contract has been awarded and entered into. Should the successful bidder fail to enter into a contract and execute such bond he shall forfeit such certified checks as liquidated damages for the use and benefit of said township.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the township Trustee and at the office of Karl P. Hinkle, Architect, 108 Heinemann Building, Connersville, Indiana.

A deposit of $15.00 will be required of prospective bidders for plans and specifications for each branch of work taken from the office of said Architect; which amount will be returned in full in case the said plans are returned on the day of letting and a bona fide bid is submitted by the contractor. Should the bidder fail in one of said requirements only the sum of $5.00 shall be refunded to him but should he fail in the observance of both conditions he shall forfeit the full amount of said deposit.

Each bidder shall stamp or write his name on the back of the drawing or covering of the specifications used by him in preparing his proposals.

Said contract will be let in four parts as stated above, to the lowest responsible bidder, who upon the award of a contract shall give a bond to the approval of the Trustee and said board for the benefit of any person, persons or corporations, who shall suffer any loss or damage by the reason of such bidder failing or neglecting to perform the work awarded him by said Trustee and to pay for all labor or materials furnished him or any sub-contractors in the construction of said work.

The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Rushville, Indiana, this 20th day of March, 1923.

NOTICE FOR IMPROVEMENT OF HIGHWAY

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining and paving with crushed stone of a certain highway in Richland Township, Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in words and figures as follows, to-wit: State of Indiana, Rush County, ss:

In the matter of the petition for the Improvement of a Public Highway in Richland Township, Rush County, Indiana, by Laverne Dunn et al. TO THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RUSH COUNTY, INDIANA

We, the undersigned petitioners, would represent and show to your Honorable Board, that this petition is signed by more than fifty adult freeholders and legal voters of Richland Township, Rush County, Indiana; that there is now an existing public highway over and upon the following described route:

"Commencing at the township line between Noble and Richland Townships at the northeast corner of Section Five (5) and the northwest corner of Section Four (4), Township Twelve (12) north, Range Eleven (11) east and at the north end of the hereinafter described public highway, which connects with said Township line at said northeast corner of Section Five and said northwest corner of Section Four (4), Township and Range aforesaid, and running thence south over and upon the line of present public highway between said Sections Four (4) and Five (5), Township and Range aforesaid, to the Rushville and New Salem or what is commonly known as the Brookville Road and State Highway No. 39."

Your petitioners would further represent; that said public highway is now established its entire length and breadth, being 32 feet in width and connects at the north end thereof with a free macadam road known as the Richland and Noble Township line Public Highway, and the dividing line between Richland and Noble Townships, Rush County, Indiana, and at the south end thereof with a free gravel road known as the Rushville and New Salem Public Highway or State Highway No. 39; that the same is now traversed and used by Township School delivery, conveyance, Rural Free Mail Delivery Route, and a greatly used public highway and said public highway in the winter months becomes almost impassable at times and frequently; that there is no incorporated town or city in said Richland Township and said public highway sought to be improved does not run into or through the limit of any incorporated city or town and is less than three miles in length or about one mile in length, and should be improved by paving with crushed stone and stone screenings thereon to the width of 16 feet upon the traveled portion thereof after being graded and drained and improved entirely by grading, draining and paving and as aforesaid and in all to the width of 32 feet, and when so done and improved the same will be of great public utility and the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom.

WHEREFORE, your petitioners pray of your Honorable Board that the aforesaid public highway be improved by grading, draining and paving the same with crushed stone covered with stone screenings, the travel portion thereof to be paved with such materials to not less than 16 feet its entire length and said public highway to be established as now laid out and dedicated its entire length and breadth; that all necessary drains, side-drains, bridges, culverts and sewers therein be so constructed as to make said public highway a complete macadam public highway and when so improved as herein prayed for, the same will be of great public utility and the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom.

Your petitioners further pray that said improvement be constructed and said public highway improved in all things in accordance with Sections 62 to 83, inclusive of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1905 entitled "An Act Concerning Public Highways" and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

TO HOLD A PARTY CONFERENCE SOON

With Harding's 1924 Campaign Under Way Leaders Will Discuss Raising Money

MUST FIRST WIN THE WEST

Hope Of Swinging West Into Line Principal Reason For President's Summer Tour

Palm Beach, Fla., March 22.—With Harding's 1924 campaign formally underway, a conference of party leaders will be held soon in Washington or Chicago to discuss means of raising money for an intensive "educational drive." The purpose will be to inform the voters through all possible mediums, of the benefits to be derived from continuing the president in office for another four years and maintaining Republican control of congress. This drive will be preliminary to the 1924 campaign.

By HERBERT W. WALKER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 19.—The "Winning of the west" will be the first objective of President Harding's campaign for re-election, which has been definitely started by the executive's close political associate, Attorney General Daugherty.

The president and his political advisers are understood here to have decided that to attain a republican victory in 1924 the great bulk of the states in the middle and far west must be carried. In this respect, the president will use the same political strategy as was employed by his predecessor, Woodrow Wilson, who in 1916 nosed out Charles E. Hughes by winning the west.

Hope of swinging the west into line behind the Republican standard is the principal reason for the president's trans-continental tour this summer. He does not wish to make an extensive campaign tour following his re-nomination in June 1924, and therefore he must get the record of his administration before the west this year.

A study of the results of the congressional election last November has convinced the Republican political chiefs that the party must be strong in the west if it is to succeed.

Governor Al Smith's big majority in New York state with Democratic gains in such states as Massachusetts, New Jersey and Maryland, make it all the more necessary to make gains in the west, these political observers believe. Victory cannot be obtained by carrying the rock-ribbed Republican states of Pennsylvania, Illinois and New England, they declare.

In most of the eastern states where prohibition is still an issue the Republicans are "drier" than the Democrats, and this, according to some of the G. O. P. leaders, will jeopardize their strength, although it may re-act favorably westward.

In the last election the west manifested some strange political upheavals which are indicative of its independence, but Republican leaders believe the president, by his personality and his speeches can counteract these movements on his tour.

The president never has been west of the Missouri river and he is anxious to obtain the real viewpoint of this great region in order to make some important recommendations for the party's 1924 platform.

Already invitations from scores of chautauquas, county and state fairs and other gatherings are pouring into the White House from the west.

It is now believed that the president may make as many as forty addresses on the tour, in addition to many short talks from the rear platform of his special train. His expected trip to Alaska after a strenuous west-bound speaking tour will give him the opportunity to rest up before a similar one east-bound.

ACTRESSES TO DENY WITNESSES' CHARGES

Lorna Ambler and "Miss S. L." Are Named in Geraldine Farrar's Divorce Suit Against Tellegen

DETECTIVE TESTIFIES

New York, March 22—Actresses named by witnesses for Geraldine Farrar in her divorce suit against Lou Tellegen are expected to come forward when the case is resumed Friday and deny the charges against them.

These actresses are Lorna Ambler, an Australian, and one known in the testimony only as "Miss S. L." Witnesses mentioned a third woman as being friendly with Tellegen, a "Miss Clifford" of California.

Tellegen, who is "on the road" in a play, declares he is not much interested in the divorce proceedings now on before a referee here and will go no intimation of what course he intends to pursue.

Norman J. Fitzsimmons, a private detective, testified that he saw Tellegen—who at the time was playing the leading role in Don Juan here—hugging and kissing Miss Ambler in the darkened vestibule of an apartment house. He described a "soul kiss" Tellegen gave "Miss S. L." which he alleged continued quite some time. This occurred on a secluded bench in Riverside park, he said.

RUSH COUNTY MEN CAUGHT WITH BOOZE

Charley and Link Gruell of Near New Salem Arrested in Andersonville Wednesday Night

LATTER PLEADS GUILTY TODAY

Judge Tague Fines Him $100 and Adds Jail Sentence of 30 Days—Charley Out on Bond

Charley and Link Gruell, brothers living in the New Salem vicinity, were arrested late Wednesday, at the edge of Andersonville, in Franklin county, when officers from that county stopped the machine in which they were riding, and found liquor in their possession.

The two were taken to the jail at Brookville, and this morning were arraigned in the circuit court before Judge Cecil Tague, on charges of unlawful possession. Link Gruell entered a plea of guilty to the charge and was fined $100 and costs and given the minimum sentence of 30 days in jail.

Charley Gruell asked for a continuance in which to enter a plea, and it was granted. He was released on $1,000 bond and will be asked to appear in a few days to enter a plea.

C. W. Dunham, attorney of Rushville, was called to Brookville this morning as legal advisor for the two men.

According to the report from that city, the officers of Franklin county have entered upon a determined effort to wipe out the illicit trade among so-called bootleggers. It is said that Rush county men have contributed to the trade and have assisted in placing the "white mule" upon the market.

Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff H. C. Jones, and a posse of deputies, set their net along the Rushville-Brookville road and stopped several suspicious machines. The two Rush county men were under suspicion, it is said, and the deputy sheriff gave chase, and overtook them, just as they neared Andersonville.

It is said that the officer discovered two quarts and a pint of "moonshine" in the machine, and they were placed under arrest, and taken to Brookville.

The arrests were the first for Franklin county under the new state law, in which it makes a jail sentence compulsory even on the first offense. The second offense makes it a felony, or a prison sentence of from one to two years.

RAYMOND GREGG IS WITH STOCK COMPANY

Former Director of Little Theatre Society Accepts Position With Stuart Walker Players

OPEN IN CINCINNATI AT COX

Raymond C. Gregg of this city, until recently director of the Little Theatre Society of Rushville, has accepted a position with the Stuart Walker company, which opened an engagement for the spring and summer at the Cox theatre in Cincinnati last Monday.

Mr. Gregg will assist in making posters that will be used in front of the theatre and will be in charge of properties that are used in the plays.

The Stuart Walker company, which has played several summer engagements at the Murat theatre in Indianapolis, opened with "Adam and Eve" this week, and according to newspaper clippings that have been received here, won a most cordial reception from Cincinnati theatre patrons.

The Rushville young man became acquainted with Stuart Walker while he was a student in Herron Art Institute in Indianapolis and spent considerable time at the Murat theatre during the summers that the stock company has been playing there.

JUNE LIGHTFOOT SELECTED

Will Represent Sixth District High Schools In Music Contest

Miss June Lightfoot of this city, member of the Rushville high school team of three girls which won the county and sixth district music memory contest here, will represent the sixth district in the state contest to be held Saturday afternoon at the Manual Training high school in Indianapolis. It has been announced by Miss Sarah I. McConnell, supervisor of music in the Rushville schools, who is state chairman of the contest.

While teams of three were permitted to represent the high schools in the county and district contests only one contestant from each congressional district will be allowed to enter the state contest.

This applies not only to the high school section of the contest, but the grammar grades and rural schools division as well. A Carthage girl will represent the district grammar schools and a girl from Alexander school, the rural schools.

NAMED CHAIRMAN FOR RUSH COUNTY

William B. Brann to Have Charge of Local Activities in Connection With Training Camp

WILL BE AT CAMP KNOX AGAIN

William B. Brann has been appointed Rush county chairman to have charge of local activities in connection with the Civilian Military Training Camps that will be conducted again this summer by the government. The camp for the fifth army corps area, which includes Indiana, will be held at Camp Knox, Kentucky.

Rush county was represented by three young men at the military training camp last year, and it is expected that equally as great interest will be shown this year.

The age limit for men who have not attended a former camp ranges from 17 to 24 years and the top limit for those who have gone through a former camp is 27 years. Men who served in the late war up to the age of 35 may attend.

Mr. Brann's appointment came through John B. Reynolds of Indianapolis, civilian aide for the state of Indiana, working under Benson R. Hedges, of Columbus, O., civilian aide for the fifth corps area. More detailed information concerning the camp will be forthcoming soon, Mr. Reynolds states.

SWOLLEN STREAMS FLOOD FARM LANDS

Wabash and White Rivers Rise Out of Their Banks in Southern Indiana, Due to Heavy Rains

BOTH ABOVE FLOOD STAGE

Vincennes, Ind., March 22—Swollen from their banks by recent rains Wabash and White rivers flooded farm lands and roads in Southern Indiana today, with the Wabash sweeping over its banks into lowlands of Southern Illinois.

Backwaters from the upper basin swept into the lower channels, interfering with highway traffic and damaging farm crops.

White river at Hazelton rose five inches during the night, overflowing the Dixie Bee highway. At Ellettsburg and other points upstream, a heavy rainfall caused further rise. White river at Decker was one foot above flood stage and still rising.

Wabash river here was at 17.5 and still rising. Flood stage before the levees were built was 15 feet. At Mt. Carmel the stage was 21.2 feet, 6.2 feet above flood stage.

AS PEOPLE SOW, SHALL THEY REAP

Ashes Always Fly in Face of Him Who Throws Them, Minister Points Out in Revival Sermon

TEXT FROM OLD TESTAMENT

The Rev. Gibson Wilson Says Careless Parents Sow to Wind in Neglecting to Train Children

As people sow, they shall reap, the Rev. Gibson Wilson pointed out in a sermon at the pre-Easter services at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, speaking on the subject, "Sowing The Wind and Reaping The Whirlwind," from the text, "They sow the wind and they shall reap the whirlwind," Hosea 8:7.

Drawing upon this Biblical text, he used many examples from life to drive home the lesson, the most notable of which was his comment on the practice of parents who sow to the wind in neglecting to train their children to fear and revere God.

There will be a meeting for women only Sunday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Gerald E. Bonney will have charge of this meeting. Mrs. Bonney is a chorus director as well as her husband. She will also address the women. Special music by the women's chorus will be provided and all the women of the city are cordially invited to attend.

The Rev. Mr. Wilson spoke in part as follows:

There are many lessons taught in the Old Testament and so clearly presented that we should not fail to get their meaning for us. God is speaking to us as much through this part of his book as through the New Testament.

God's accusation against his people is that they have left him out of account.

"They have set up kings but not by me, they have made princes and I knew it not." They made idols of their silver and gold. His anger is kindled against them. It is the height of folly to arouse the anger of God.

"He that soweth unto his own flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption." Gal. 6:8.

The farmer is now planning and arranging his fields in which he is to sow grain. Here the field is the flesh, our own bodily life. They have been sowing ungodliness, and whatever form that ungodliness may take they are reaping corruption sorrow and shame.

"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." In this God's word has spoken a great truth for all ages.

This is a divine and universal law of nature.

Sow wheat and you reap wheat. Sow wild oats and you reap wild

BIG FOUR TRAFFIC DELAYED BY WRECK

Broken Axle on Freight Car Causes Nine Cars to be Derailed North of Carthage

PASSENGER TRAINS ANNULLED

Traffic on this division of the Big Four railroad was suspended today on account of a wreck, just north of Carthage, when nine cars left the track, and piled up on the right-of-way and tore up considerable track-age.

The wreck happened shortly after midnight, when a car in a southbound freight train broke an axle, and as the result the nine cars piled up before the train could be brought to a stop.

The nine cars were heavily loaded with coal and lumber, and the contents were thrown along the track. No one was injured.

Wrecking crews were summoned, and all passenger trains this morning were annulled, including the 8:05 southbound, and the 11:20, northbound, and it was doubtful whether the wreckage would be cleared away in time for the evening trains.

BOYSCAMP TO OPEN THIS YEAR JUNE 11

Large Number of Boys Have Already Registered For The Camp at Turkey Run State Park

OFFER ATTRACTIVE PRICE

D. R. Merrell, Local Scout Leader, Will Have Charge of the Camp This Summer

The Boys' Camp at Turkey Run State Park in Western Indiana opens this year on June 11. This camp has for the past four years been under the management of D. R. Merrell, local scout leader. Mr. Merrell will again have charge of the camp this summer and he reports a large number of boys already registered for the camp, each of which covers a period of fourteen days.

Most of the openings, however, occur in the camp, which opens Monday, August 13, and runs till Monday August 27. This is really the best camp of the year and Mr. Merrell is offering it to the boys of Rushville and vicinity at the very attractive price of $12 for the fourteen days.

"Everyone knows of the wonderful scenery at Turkey Run," said Mr. Merrell today. "Great canons, large trees, water falls, beautiful roads, a splendid hotel, excellent swimming, boating and fishing constitute the main attractions. The country here is just as nature made it. One cannot realize the extreme beauty and the charm of exploring a country that is just as it was left by the Indians. An old hermit's home is on the grounds as is also an old mill made in solid rock and a coal mine.

"Two days of the camp is spent at the Shades of Death which is even more spectacular than Turkey Run. A visit is also made to the National Game Preserve at Bluff Mills. Here one may see all kinds of North American animals. The scenery here is also very spectacular and very beautiful. These places are considered Nature's Beauty Spots of the Central States."

Transportation to and from the camp is included in the cost. Everything is furnished at the camp except camp blankets and personal clothing. Here one has a chance to know boys from all over the United States, it is pointed out. Each Sunday brings band concerts and thousands of visitors.

Reservations for this camp must be made by March 31 if possible, Mr. Merrell states. Anyone interested should consult with Mr. Merrell at once. He will furnish any boy with reservation blanks, as well as a number of boys who are working with him. He is offering a free trip to the camp to the boy who gets the most reservation blanks filled. The blank states very plainly that $6 is to be paid by May 27 and the remaining $6 at camp time.

This camp is not to be confused with the Rushville Boys camp which is in charge of A. F. Cotton, physical training director in the local schools.

ARGUMENTS SET FOR APRIL 5

Evidence Concluded in Suit to Set Aside Two Deeds

The law suit heard all day Wednesday in the circuit court of John Kelley, Jr., against Russell Bebout, et al., was concluded late in the afternoon, and the arguments in the case will be heard on April 5. The case was presided over by Judge John Craig of Greensburg, who was elected special judge to try the cause.

The suit was a complaint to have the court set aside deeds to two pieces of property, one a residence in Rushville and the other a 54-acre farm in this county. The property was alleged to have been conveyed in order to prevent collection of an account by the plaintiff.

No Justification For Increased Sugar Prices

(By United Press) Washington, March 22.—No justification exists for the recent increase in the sugar prices, Secretary Hoover declared today in announcing that he had asked the federal trade commission to make an investigation of the sugar prices.

"I have repeatedly stated, there is no economic justification for the high price of sugar as there is an estimated world surplus," the secretary asserted.

ADVISED TO BUY SUGAR FROM HAND TO MOUTH

Consumers Warned by Rep. Dillinger, Mississippi, That Speculators Are at Work Again

WRITES SECRETARY HOOVER

Washington, March 22.—Consumers today were advised to buy their sugar on a hand to mouth basis by Representative Dillinger, Republican Mississippi in a letter to Secretary Hoover on the sugar situation.

Dillinger declared that the sharp increase in sugar in the last two weeks looked to him as though speculators who were responsible for the high prices during the war were at work now.

Prosecution of sugar gamblers who were alleged to have driven the price of sugar up three or four cents during the last few weeks were demanded of President Harding by the Peoples Legislative Service.

Some American refiners predict that unless the present speculative movement is checked the price will go to 20 cents a pound in June, the service said, adding:

"If this be true, the American people will be robbed of $500,000,000 solely for the benefit of the sugar gamblers and profiteers."

The organization, headed by Basil Manley and backed by Senator La Follette, sent a telegram to the president charging that the sugar speculators are guilty of "a criminal conspiracy" to force up sugar prices and demand that he direct the department of justice to seek indictments immediately before a grand jury.

FRENCH ARE TIGHTENING UP

No One Permitted To Leave Ruhr Area At Night Except By Train

Cologne, March 22.—The cordon about the occupied areas was further tightened today when orders were made effective that no one shall leave the Ruhr or Rhineland after night fall, except by train.

Sentries along the roads leading from the occupied areas are ordered to turn back any one attempting to pass.

Watson As Harding Manager

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—According to a Washington dispatch to the Indianapolis Times, Senator James E. Watson is being boomed as President Harding's campaign manager in 1924.

Reports from Florida also mentioned Will H. Hays for the job. Watson has recently been in Florida but according to the dispatches does not intend to wait longer on Harding as "business affairs" call him to Washington.

The Watson boom is not taken seriously around republican national committee circles.

TWO KILLED IN ENCOUNTER

Dublin, March 22.—Free State troops today discovered and immediately attacked insurgents headquarters near Kingstown. After a brisk battle, in which a Free State soldier and a rebel were killed, and one wounded, five rebels and a large quantity of ammunition were captured. The insurgent nest at Kingstown, a short distance from Dublin, is believed to be that from which the irregulars have directed their sorties into the capital and many of their bombing outrages here.

GOVERNMENT ENDS ITS CASE TODAY

Counsel For Mayor Johnson of Gary and Other Defendants Move Dismissal of Accused

MOTIONS UNDER ADVISEMENT

Mrs. Mary Monti, Widow of Slain King of "Little Italy" Says She Bought Husband's Freedom

(By United Press) Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—Government attorneys prosecuting Gary and Lake county officials and other defendants in what they regard as "the biggest booze conspiracy ever uncovered in the middle west" rested their case shortly before adjournment of federal court for lunch today.

Counsel for Mayor Roswell Johnson of Gary and other defendants immediately sought dismissal of all the accused persons represented by attorneys. Special Judge Ferdinand Geiger of Milwaukee took the motions under advisement.

District Attorney Homer Elliott suggested the dismissal of one of the sixty-three defendants against whom he had no evidence.

Near the close of the government's case, evidence was presented to prove that officials of the Calumet had a "planted" forged government search warrant on Phillip Ukan, star government witness, who testified he was beaten by Prosecutor Dwight Kinder and whipped by other officials with his own belt until he became unconscious and then was thrown into jail because he would not sign a statement to warrant the arrest of prohibition agents.

"Mayor Johnson witnessed the flogging," Ukan said.

Mrs. Mary Monti, widow of the slain king of Gary's "Little Italy" told of buying her husband's freedom from Blaz Lucas, an attorney, for $800.

"We gave him the money and there was no trial," she said while the court room was quiet. Gaspari Monti, the slain husband, who was to have shot the government's main bolt against the alleged conspiracy, was shot to death on the streets of Gary on the eve of the trial.

George Winkler, federal prohibition agent, told of threats he had heard City Judge William Dunn make against Ukan for the part he had taken in aiding the government to collect its evidence.

YEGGMEN'S LOOT IS ESTIMATED AT $4,000

Registered Mail And Stamps Stolen By Robbers Who Enter Bedford Postoffice During Night

ONE VAULT RESISTS ATTACK

(By United Press) Bedford, Ind., March 22.—Registered mail and stamps having an estimated value of $4,000 were taken by yeggs who looted the Bedford postoffice last night and escaped.

Entering the building through a window, the robbers burned through the vault and two smaller doors inside the vault with an acetylene torch.

They attempted to burn through a small safe where most of the money and stamps were kept. One compartment in the safe where most of the money and stamps were kept was burglar proof and it withstood the attack.

Mrs. J. S. Ramsay, who lives next to the postoffice, looked out of her window at two o'clock. She saw two automobiles in front of the building and saw one man carry a sack out to the car. She thought they were postal employees and she went to sleep.

At 5:30 o'clock a clerk went on duty and discovered the robbery. The same methods were used that yeggs employed in looting the postoffices at Connersville and Columbus.

SAUNDERS TO COLLECT IN SUM OF $2,750,000

Gives Wall Street Until 3 p. m. To day To Settle On "Shorts" On Piggly Wiggly Stock

MARGIN OF $110 A SHARE

New York, March 22.—Wall street speculators who are still "short" will pay Clarence Saunders, Memphis, approximately $2,750,000 as a penalty for "hammering" his Piggly Wiggly stock on the New York stock exchange, Brokers and Wall street observers estimated today.

Saunders, in giving "the street" until 3 p. m. today to settle for $150 a share on 25,000 shares he claims are still short to him on delivery would collect a margin of $110 a share, on the basis of the $40 a share for which the stock was selling when he began operations a few days ago.

If the "shorts" refuse to settle on this basis and Saunders carries out his threat to put the price at $250 after 3 p. m. and collect through the courts, the total profit of course will be doubled. In addition to the amount Saunders claims is still unsettled millions of dollars are involved in his favor in increased value of the stock because of its more than doubling price. There are also thousands of shares, besides the 25,000 he claims still due on marginal accounts to others, it is declared.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH

Omaha, Neb., March 22.—Mrs. Ruby Murray, 33, was burned to death when her bed caught fire from a cigarette she was smoking last night. She had fallen asleep while smoking and when she awoke her clothing was ablaze. She died before medical aid reached her.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

IS FOUND DEAD ON A TRAIN

Former Head of Chain Stores, Under Investigation; Expires

Toledo, Ohio, March 22.—Leonard R. Steel, Jr., 42, of Gettsville N. Y., formerly head of the L. R. Steel Department Stores, Inc., died aboard a New York Central train enroute to Chicago shortly after midnight this morning. The body was taken from the train at Toledo at 2 a. m. Death was due to heart failure.

Buffalo, N. Y. March 22.—Affairs of the L. R. Steel chain stores have been under investigation for some time. Receivers were appointed a fortnight ago. L. R. Steel, Jr., who is 42 years old, and lived recently at Gettsville, N. Y., near here, gave up active control of the enterprises that bore his name some few weeks ago. He was reported from Gettsville to be suffering from hemorrhage following a severe attack of grippe.

Carl Sherman, state attorney general, yesterday asked the consent of receivers to have accountants from the state comptroller's office go over the L. R. Steel books and accounts. Gus B. Moore, district attorney stated today no evidence of any criminal procedure had thus far been disclosed.

GREETINGS SENT TO PRINCE

American Legion Cables Son of King of England

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—"Upon this occasion the American Legion extends greetings to the Prince of Wales" Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion today cabled the Prince, who has accepted the invitation of the London post of the Legion to attend its Carnival ball tomorrow.

"The hearts of the living and the spirits of the dead rejoice when veterans of our two great nations mingle together in happiness and fraternity" the cable continued. "May the day soon dawn when peace and good will shall reign upon earth; when war and discord shall be no more, and the nations of the earth shall dwell forever in peace. To you, distinguished and honored comrade-in-arms, in the name of the American Legion, I extend greetings."

TO REST CASE BY FRIDAY

Prosecution in Herrin Trial Hopes To Close This Week

Marion, Ill., March 22.—Attorneys for the prosecution in the second Herrin massacre trial were calling witnesses in rapid succession today in an effort to rest their case before adjournment of court Friday. The defense was expected to get started by next Monday.

George Nelson and Wm Goodman, Williamson county farmers, who received notes threatening violence because of their testimony for the state in the first trial, reiterated their charges that Otis Clark and Oscar Howard were leaders of the mob that killed 211 non-union workers on the morning of June 22.

SERMON SUBJECT TONIGHT

The subject of the sermon to be preached by the Rev. H. W. Hargrett, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, tonight will be "The Unanswerable Question." The subject of the pastor Wednesday night was "The Arrow Heads of Victory." Much interest is being shown in the revival and good sized crowds are attending nightly.

INDIANS AND POSSE CLASH

Renegade In Skirmish With Officers Near Blanding, Utah

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 22.—Renegade Indians and a sheriff's posse clashed in another brief skirmish near Blanding during the night, here early today.

"Old Dutch," veteran indian warrior was seriously wounded, the report stated. One buck was shot and killed in a previous engagement.

The recalcitrant braves took to the mountains followed by a posse which liberated two young indians jailed on charges of stealing sheep. The indians have entrenched themselves in strongholds near Blanding, the report said.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22.—The Grand Army of the Republic is rapidly approaching extinction, according to A. J. Ball, assistant adjutant general of the Indiana department in a report made public today.

Only 4,869 are left of the 28,000 in Indiana in 1890, Ball said. The number of posts in Indiana has decreased from 208 to 196 within the last year.

Plans are being made for the annual state encampment at Muncie, May 15-17.

Blaz Lucas, Gary attorney and other defendants were present at the time Winkler said. The following day, according to the testimony, Ukman was arrested. Ukman testified Wednesday that it was when he was arrested without charge he was beaten at the police station.

"We should have killed Ukman before we sent him to the Crown Point jail," Nathan Potts, police sergeant and a defendant, said, according to testimony of Steve Mendish.

William Matthews, attorney for Ukman, said he went to the police station the night Ukman was arrested and demanded to see him.

"That's one—crooked—you never will see," Potts exclaimed, Matthews testified.

Other witnesses declared there was a deliberate plot to "frame" Ukman who was said to possess forged government search warrants when he was arrested. These warrants were "planted" on him, Ukman contended in his testimony.

Ralph Stagnach, a defendant, showed a bunch of warrants about a week before Ukman's arrest and said he planned to "plant" them on Ukman, according to Eli Chulevick.

Tactics of defense counsel were carefully guarded. District Attorney Elliott who has had charge of the governments case brought several surprise witnesses into the case and belief was expressed that attorneys on the other side were grooming witnesses to refute the evidence.

The government shot its main point in the testimony of Philip Ukman, attorney who said Prosecutor Dwight Kinder and other defendant officials of the Calumet steel region assaulted him in presence of Mayor Roswell Johnson, who is charged with taking an important part in the conspiracy to protect bootleggers. Ukman was gathering evidence for the government at the time of the alleged assault.

"Most of our important witnesses have testified," Elliott said. "We plan to rest our case after the introduction of a little more evidence."

Indications were that the fate of sixty-three defendants, including some of the highest officials of Gary and Lake county, will rest with the jury early next week.

Hunted Wild Beasts Together In Africa. And Now Want A Divorce

Four Times Delia Akeley Went With Her Husband Into The Wilds of Africa In Search of Big Game, But the Fifth Expedition Will End in Superior Court, Where Divorce Action is Pending

Chicago, March 22.—The first act in the romance of the Akeleys, best known of all jungle hunters, will be played in superior court here March 22, when the Carl E. Akeley divorce suit is heard.

Four times Mrs. Delia J. Akeley accompanied her husband, famous big game hunter and naturalist through the trackless jungles of Africa, establishing a name for herself as a wonderful shot and probably the most daring huntress of all times.

But on the fifth trip, Akeley braved fever, wild animals and exposure in the wilds of Africa without his wife. On his return last year, he filed suit for divorce on grounds of desertion. Mrs. Akeley filed a cross bill shortly after, alleging desertion previous to the date mentioned by her husband, July 1917.

The Akeleys were married in 1902 while Akeley was head of the Field museum of Chicago. The couple started almost immediately for Africa to collect specimens for the museum.

On the first expedition Mrs. Akeley made a reputation for herself. For more than 1,000 miles across the heart of the "Dark Continent" she shared every danger and hardship with her husband. Time after time, together they braved death under the fangs of jungle beasts.

Four years later, on the next African trip, she saved her husband's life, in a battle with a lion. The only white woman for hundreds of miles, she nursed the seriously wounded naturalist back to health.

A few months later the adventure-some wife shot and killed the largest elephant ever taken in Africa, by man or woman. In accomplishing this feat, they narrowly escaped with their lives.

The return to America, following each trip to the wilds of Africa, found both attracting universal attention. Akeley was "lionized" by scientific and socially prominent groups, lecturing from coast to coast. In spite of the urgings of her friends, the wife refused steadily to lecture on her experiences.

Steadily the civilian life of the two intrepid explorers and hunters grew apart until last year, Akeley left his wife behind while he went again into the wilds with Miss Martha Miller, his secretary; Mrs. Herbert Bradley, New York novelist; Bradley and the five-year-old Bradley child.

Akeley has just completed a lecture tour through the Far West and Mrs. Akeley is recovering from a serious illness, which confined her to her home in New York for the last several months.

Mrs. Akeley's attorneys declare the "Modern Diana", who braved the fiercest wild beasts and the most strenuous hardships to be with her husband through four African trips, will meet the hunter in the courtroom the day of the divorce trial.

INSTRUCTED TO TELL FALSEHOODS

Members of House of David Told to Lie if "Faith" Was Endangered, Witness Says

ISRAELITE HOUSE PROBED

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 22.—Further startling revelations of alleged immoral conduct by Benjamin Purnell, high priest of the House of David, were scheduled when the damage suit of Mr. and Mrs. John Hansel, Nashville, Tenn., against the Israelite institution was resumed in federal court here today.

Mrs. Ione Rosetta of Newark, N. J., told of the alleged system of mutual espionage imposed upon a girl and men inmates of the House of David. She said that King Benjamin warned the girls that revelation of occurrences in the "House" to outsiders was the greatest of all sins. She said she had been instructed to tell untruths when the safety of the "faith" stood in danger of investigation.

Mrs. Rosetta testified she was a party to a "group" marriage, and was forced to pick her husband at the command of King Benjamin.

"Who compelled you to marry?" Mrs. Rosetta was asked.

"Mary Purnell, wife of the king," she replied.

"How many of you were married at the same time?"

"Twelve couples."

Emil Rosetta, husband of Mrs. Rosetta, testified he believed in the "faith" up until about a year after his marriage when his wife confessed to him that during the preceding year Benjamin had been guilty of misconduct toward her. He said he never saw a marriage license while at the House of David and his wife lived as brother and sister.

Rosetta told of many meetings between Benjamin and girls at which, he charged, the king made improper advances.

HOW TO WORSHIP:—God is the Spirit; and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth.—John 4: 24.

Economy in Government

Appropriations of the federal government for the fiscal year 1924 will total nearly $234,000,000 less than for the fiscal year 1923, the reduction being accomplished notwithstanding the fact that the 1923 appropriations marked an enormous decrease over the year 1922.

The care with which the executive departments and the budget bureau prepared their estimates of the amounts needed is evidenced by the fact that when congress passed the appropriation bills the net decrease of appropriations as compared with the estimates was less than one percent of the total amount requested. That is the sort of business management that gives assurance to the American people that the affairs of their government are in the hands of competent and conscientious men.

But it is not alone in the reduction of the total amount of appropriations that improvement is seen in the manner of conducting the public business. For many years it has been the practice of the executive departments to send in their regular estimates and then after congress has met and after public attention has been diverted from the estimates, send in supplemental estimates running into the hundreds of millions. Under the budget system, which the last congress enacted and which the administration has put into practical effect, the aggregate of supplemental estimates submitted to the recent session of congress was only slightly more than one million dollars. Any business man will agree that it takes exceedingly good management and a high order of business ability to make estimates several months in advance which later require to revision of only one-thirtieth of one percent.

All this has not been accomplished without hard work. It has required close attention on the part of the heads of the administrative bureaus, on the part of the director of the budget, and on the part of the appropriation committees of both Senate and House. Moreover, it has required faithful adherence to the pledge of economy on which the Congress was elected in 1920.

The Confidential Librarian

A woman librarian has adopted this rule: "Never discuss with a third person the literary tastes of a patron." She explains:

"It would be just as unethical for me to tell you what one of my patrons reads as it would be for a physician to discuss your ailments in public."

"Your choice of books tells to much about you. If I know what you read, I can tell pretty well what sort of person you are."

It is a good rule, and the librarian quoted deserves credit for her keen sense of professional honor. But the chief point of interest is not her ethics but her psychological reasoning: "If I know what you read, I can tell what sort of person you are."

That swings the responsibility from the librarian to the library patron. By his reading you shall know the reader. It is a test of friends, family, self. And it is a pretty fair test.

We would willingly be judged by what he has read the past winter? Or by the lack of reading, if he has read nothing?

Samuel Young was fined five dollars and cost today in Mayor Cowling's court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. He was arrested Saturday night at the instigation of his father-in-law, Manville B. Brown. Some time since Young and his wife separated. They have a two-year-old son and Friday Young called at the home of his father-in-law, who lives on the Seth Moore farm, and asked to see the boy. Being refused, an argument with several members of the household ensued, resulting in Young pulling a gun when he was "crowded".

FALLS UNDER AUTO, DIES

Muncie, Ind., March 22.—Warren Rader, 65, died while being rushed to a hospital last night after being run down by an automobile driven by Mrs. James Scott. Rader, who was riding a bicycle was said to have attempted to pass in front of the car, his wheel striking a fender and he was thrown under the machine. Mrs. Scott was exonerated by the coroner. This is the second fatal automobile accident here in four days.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Gripe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your finger-tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes. Better than a mustard plaster.

SCHOOLS TURN TO TRACK MEETS NOW

With Basketball Season Over, Athletes Begin Training For Field and Track Sectionals

WRESTLING TOURNEY IN APRIL

Newest Sport is Undeveloped, and Second Annual Event is Planned—Some Turn to Baseball

By HEZE CLARK
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 22—Now that the basketball season is over, the high school athletes of Indiana are turning their attention to track and field athletics and baseball. To be sure, there will be the state high school wrestling championships to be held in April at the Indiana University gymnasium in Bloomington, but wrestling is still a new branch of athletics among the Hoosier high schools. The meet at Bloomington will be the second annual wrestling meet of the Indiana high schools, and some good mat men should be developed among the prep schools.

While baseball is always popular with athletes of high school age there is always the handicap at many schools of not having nine boys who can play the game. To be sure, the larger schools have plenty of material from which to develop baseball teams. Technical high school of Indianapolis, which has more students than any other school in the state, has always either been champion, or close to that honor, since baseball was started at the Green and White school.

In track athletics it is different. Should a small high school with only a few boys enrolled have only one first class athlete, that young man might carry the colors of his school to victory through the sectional meet and even to first honors in the state meet in some events. The little school while not developing a well balanced track and field squad that can win most points in the state meet has a chance to score points and this caused more interest to track and field athletics in Indiana high schools than is taken in baseball.

Triple Winners in Olympics

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York March 22—Double winners have been many in Olympic game competition, triple winners have been occasional, but the feat of A. C. Kraenzlein, the American star, who won four events at Paris in 1900 never has been duplicated. From the present outlook it will not be duplicated next year in Paris.

Kraenzlein won the sixty meters dash, the 110-meters hurdles, the 200-meters hurdles and the broad jump.

From a numerical point of view, perhaps his is the outstanding accomplishment of an athlete in competition with the world. Jim Thorpe made the greatest of all records in Stockholm, but his marks were never put on the books, because he played a game of baseball once.

Equally meritorious and perhaps even more was the record made by Ray Ewry, the American jumper, who dominated the standing jumping events in four Olympic meets.

Ewry won the high jump, the broad jump and the triple jump in 1900 in Paris and 1904 in St. Louis. He won the broad jump and the high jump also at Athens in 1906 and in London in 1908.

Hannes Kolehmainen, the veteran "Flying Finn," was a triple winner in 1912 when he won the cross country race and the 5,000 and 10,000 meter runs.

Other Americans who achieved a triple triumph were Hahn, who won the 60, 100 and 200 meters dashes in 1904, and Hillman, winner of the 400 meters run and the 200 and 400 meters hurdles.

Eddie Collins was the worst ball player, Monte Cross, former shortstop of the Athletics, ever saw but Eddie was playing short when Cross saw him and he had found his place at second.

"Connie Mack introduced me to Collins," Cross said recently, "and he asked me to take him out and see what he could do. I looked him over and told him that he might have been great in college, but he would never do in fast company. He could hit and he was fast with his hands. He was much faster with his head and it was his intelligent playing that commanded our attention. Connie decided to shift him over to second base. He stopped fighting the ball and you know the rest."

Collins at that time was known officially as "young Sullivan."

TRAINING CAMP GOSSIP

New Orleans—With a mixed team of regulars and rookies, the New York Yankees dropped again before the New Orleans Southern Association club by a score of 3 to 1. Ruth got one double in 3 times up. None of the regular pitchers were used.

Clearwater, Fla.—After failing to meet the Cleveland Indians yesterday through a misunderstanding in the schedule, the Brooklyn Robins were to have a light session today and engage the Boston Braves tomorrow. Captain Sack Wheat joined the team last night.

Augusta, Ga.—The Detroit Tigers will begin a series of exhibition games today when they clash with the Augusta club at Waynesboro. Manager Cobb denied reports he planned to trade Veach and Flagstead, outfielders, to Washington for Sam Rice.

Orlando, Fla.—Benny Deever, Red rookie, arrested here yesterday at request of Port Dowell, Calif., authorities for being absent from the army without leave, today returned to practice with the Cincinnati club assuming responsibility for his presence in California when desired.

Lakeland, Fla.—Today the Cleveland Indians meet the Cincinnati Reds at Orlando for the third time. The Ohio teams will play off their tie of one apiece.

Seguin, Tex.—The New York Giants showed world's championship class in defeating the Chicago White Sox here 4-0. Both managers used several rookie pitchers during the match. The Giants-White Sox series now stands one and one.

Avon, Calif.—The first jump in the Chicago Cub's spring exhibition series was taken today, when team left for Los Angeles. The Cubs will be on the road until a couple of days before the season opens.

Hot Springs, Ark.—The Pirates will make another attempt today to start the first practice game cancelled yesterday on account of rain. The athletes remained indoors for the most part of the day.

Leesburg, Fla.—The Phillies were back in their camp today after going to Bradenton to lose to the Cards yesterday 17-5. Art Fletcher, after losing the second game to the Cards ordered "more work".

Montgomery, Ala.—Connie Mack's A team lost to the Milwaukee Brewers, 2-0, in an exhibition game yesterday, while the B team journeyed to Tuscaloosa and turned in a 13-2 victory over the University of Alabama nine.

Tampa, Fla.—Nick Altrock, famous comedian of the Senators, may be missing from the coaching lines this season, where for years his antics have been a cause of merriment to fans. Manager Bush probably will appear regularly at the third base line and coach Gibson is expected to hold down the opposite corner.

New York—Aspirants for the Davis Tennis cup increased to 17 when the challenge of Spain was received by the United States Lawn Tennis Association. This is a new record.

MOST HOLD OUTS BACK IN FOLDS

Practically all of the Dissatisfied Players Reach Agreements With Club Owners

JACK BENTLY STILL OUT

Baltimore. Player Sold for $85,000 Demands Part of the Pile The Giants Turned Over

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 22—With a few notable exceptions, all of baseball's dissatisfied are back in the fold and the holdout army has been reduced almost to a squad.

Jack Bently, the $65,000 Baltimore player, is the most conspicuous of the holdouts and it begins to look as if the star pitcher and first baseman meant it, when he said he would never play unless the Baltimore club paid him part of the pile the Giants turned over for him.

Although McGraw has been quoted as saying that he believed Bently should be given a part of his purchase price, the Giant leader is looking among the other youngsters in the camp for a southpaw to help out Art Nehf.

Zach Wheat, the trusty old Brooklyn outfielder, is making good his threat to stay away from the Robins until Charley Ebbets gives him a better contract. Ebbets has used the old "I'll trade you" threat, and he also has fallen back without effect on the other bromide—"play for me or starve".

Brooklyn also has Andy Heb, a promising young infielder, to get back into the fold.

"Pop" Gleason has Eddie Collins listed as a holdout, but the greatest of all the second basemen denies that he is a member of the group, and insists that he has merely been delayed in reporting.

The White Sox blamed the Yankees for getting Collins dissatisfied by starting a lot of trade talk and then failing to go through with it. The Sox officials claim that the American League champions never made a serious attempt to get Eddie away from his Chicago job.

WOMEN'S TENNIS GAME IS SUFFERING SLUMP

American Fans Haven't Had A Look At Anything International Since Visit Of Susanne

BRITISH GIRLS ARE SOUGHT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, March 22—Since the memorable visit of Mlle. Susanne Lenglen two years ago, American fans haven't had a look at anything international in the way of women's tennis.

The need of new color to stir up interest in the woman's game here was shown last summer when the Forrest Hills championship were almost a fiasco.

Necessity to show new faces in the title matches this coming season has led the national associations to go after some of the star British girls and it is more than probable that two or three of the English stars will appear at Forrest Hills.

The association will not comment more than to admit that the star woman players of the other side have been invited to compete for the Wightman cup, a trophy offered by the former Miss Hazel Hitchkiss to take the place of the Davis cup in woman's competition.

The cup was offered two years ago

but it has never been placed in competition. The difficulties that women players experience when they are forced to do a lot of travelling was the biggest reason for the delay in getting the trophy up for actual competition.

Princeton, N. J.—Because of scholastic conflicts, Princeton has refused permission to "Buddy" Knepper to accompany the American amateur golf team on its invasion of England this spring. Jesse Sweetzer the amateur champion, has also been denied a leave by Yale.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

IF MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT DARKENS SO NATURALLY NOBODY CAN TELL

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

STILLS IN SCHOOLS ARE NOT ILLEGAL

R. C. Minton, Legal Advisor Of Indiana Prohibition Enforcement Officer, Gives An Opinion

TRUSTEE RAISES QUESTION

State Board Of Education Will Be Asked To Rule On Question, State Superintendent Says

High schools possessing stills for use in chemistry classes can go on their courses, because they are not violating the state prohibition law, in the opinion of R. C. Minton, head of the legal department of the federal prohibition department in Indiana, who was asked to express himself on the legality of the practice, when the question was raised by a township trustee.

E. G. Schumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, expressed the view Wednesday that the use of the stills was clearly a violation of the Indiana dry law, but was contradicted by Mr. Minton.

"No one can be convicted for violation of the prohibition law by merely possessing a still," Mr. Minton explained. "Sec. 2 of the Indiana law does provide that the possession of a still is prima facie evidence that the holder is violating the prohibition law, but in order to obtain a conviction other evidence must be presented proving that the still was used for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor."

Mr. Minton said he had made a search of the statutes and could find no ruling whereby the small stills or retorts used in school laboratories are regarded as "stills" within the meaning of the prohibition laws. Mr. Minton added, however, that the large water stills used in the high schools and colleges to produce distilled water are regarded as stills within the meaning of the Federal law which requires registration.

"But this law was in force long before prohibition," Mr. Minton declared. "The law requiring the registration of all stills with the Federal government was passed in 1868."

Benjamin J. Barris, state superintendent of public instruction said that he is to make an investigation of the still question in the schools and that the question would likely be presented to the next meeting of the state board of education April 10 for the adoption of some ruling.

Mr. Barris said he would ask for a legal opinion from Attorney General U. S. Lesh and that the state board ruling, if action is taken, will be based on the opinion of the state legal department.

As there is no "criminal intent" in the distilling of spirits in school laboratories it is not likely that enforcing officers will take any notice of the practice in such schools as continue to use this as an experiment in teaching chemistry.

It might be, however, that the state board of education, following the policy adopted by the chemistry departments of the Indianapolis high schools may adopt a ruling prohibition these experiments in the high school classes for the reason that the knowledge might tempt the youths to take a fling at "home brewing" or illicit manufacture of booze.

"In the enforcement of the prohibition laws the criminal intent is always taken into consideration," Mr. Minton declared, in referring to the question of school stills. "As there is no criminal intent in the use of stills in the schools, it is clear that their use would not constitute a violation of the prohibition laws."

Mr. Minton was asked if the act of distilling alcoholic spirits from fermented fruit juices in the classroom would be an offense. This was the question raised by a township trustee in a letter to the state board of accounts.

Mr. Minton said he did not believe that intoxicating liquor could be manufactured in the small stills or retorts used in the classrooms. But in the event that spirits were made in the classroom as an experiment there would be lacking the "criminal intent," he pointed out.

The Store That Does Things

ALL BUT ONE OF FAMILY WIPED OUT BY DRUG EVIL

Story Revealed When Mrs. Ella Robinson Kills Mother And Then Takes Her Own Life

TELL-TALE NEEDLE MARKS

Chicago, March 22.—The history of how all but one of a once prominent family have been wiped out through the drug evil, was revealed here today with the murder of Mrs. Ella Woolson, 72, and suicide of her daughter, Mrs. Edna Robinson.

Notes found when authorities broke into the room where the two bodies lay told of a death pact reached when the two women were to be separated because of use of drugs. Mrs. Robinson had cut her mother's throat with a razor and then slashed her own.

Numerous tell-tale marks of the hypodermic needle were found on wrists of both bodies.

Authorities had insisted that the daughter leave her mother and spend all of her time at the Wesley Memorial hospital in an effort to bring about a cure of the drug habit. The mother was to be taken to the home of her son.

The tragedy culminated years of fruitless struggle against narcotics. Twenty-five years ago Mrs. Woolson's husband, Dr. Charles Woolson, a leading physician of Buffalo, N. Y., killed himself. His wife came to Chicago with her three children. A few years later, Howard, the youngest, committed suicide.

No reason for the deed was given at the time.

Edna, the only daughter, married T. A. Robinson, a merchant. Their first child died, poisoned from drugs through nursing at its mother's breast. Robinson a year ago was sent to the Kankakee asylum, a raving maniac from the use of opiates. Another son, William, married and moved away, leaving his mother and sister in the home where they were found dead last night. Dope he said, was behind the family tragedy from the time of his father's suicide.

FRANCE'S AIR POWER NOT SEEN AS MENACE

Leader Of British Labor Party Is Quoted Following Discussion On Question In Parliament

BRITISH INFERIOR IN AIR

London, March 22.—"I do not consider France's air power a menace to England at the present time," Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the labor party, declared in a statement to the United Press today.

MacDonald's statement was apropos of debates in the houses of parliament last night when lords and commoners discussed with professions of uneasiness the growing air power of the French and Britain's inferiority.

Lords Carson, Grey, Haldane and Birkenhead urged concentration of a big British air force to meet the French superiority. While most of the speakers professed little fear of war with England's neighbor, all urged that Britain should at least be on a par with a country which owed her so much money.

This morning's press was unanimous in urging a larger air force for this country, with the exception of the labor papers.

CONVICTED FOR MURDER

Mount Vernon, Ind., March 22.—A jury here late yesterday returned a verdict of guilty in the case of Charles Alderson, Evansville, charged with slaying Wesley Holder, Evansville jeweler, last September. Alderson was sentenced to life imprisonment. The case was venued here from Vanderburg county.

ROB FAST FREIGHT TRAIN

Philadelphia, March 22. — Six masked and heavily armed bandits held up a fast freight of the Philadelphia and Reading between Oreland and Camp Hill, Pa., late last night, uncoupled the engine, looted a car and escaped with a truck load of merchandise. Three suspects found near the scene of the robbery are held for investigation.

The Loyal Daughters Class of the Main Street Christian church will hold an exchange Saturday morning in the American Security Company's room in East Second street.

TO REOPEN PLANS FOR DEBT PAYMENT

United States Will Make New Suggestions to Allies About Paying What They Owe

SIX BILLIONS REMAIN DUE

This Country Will Not Hasten Matters, But Will Seek Payment on Basis of British Terms

By PAUL R. MALLON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 22—New negotiations for payment of the remaining $6,400,000,000 the allied nations owe the United States will soon be undertaken.

France, Britain, Italy, Czechoslovakia and others may be informed, it was learned at the treasury department today, that this government is prepared—in view of the British arrangement—to proceed further with the task of refunding.

While there is no disposition of this government to hasten negotiations with nations which have not yet paid, members of the refunding commission declare that its proper remaining debtors should be invited to negotiate on the basis of the British settlement or to suggest terms.

There is every chance that some of the nations at least will accept this opportunity, officials believe. France had contended—in negotiations undertaken last summer—that her financial condition was such then that she would be unable to pay immediately.

A satisfactory settlement of the Ruhr situation might encourage resumption of the negotiations, it was thought. France owes $3,750,000,000 and if the amount was funded, there would remain only a little more than $2,600,000,000 outstanding.

Secretary of the treasury Mellon expects to place in the hands of the British ambassador here today the final draft of the British contract. This will be communication to London and then a formal final draft will be made as approved.

The British have notified Mellon they will pay the full $23,000,000 due this year and will not make use of the optional clause which would permit them to carry over part of this amount.

Funding of the $9,000,000 Finnish debt is expected to be concluded within a week.

In the Coach, Hudson for the first time made possible a closed car under $2,000 on so great a chassis as the Super-Six.

By every proof—official records and the satisfaction of more than 140,000 owners—Hudson holds place among the few truly great cars. It has outsold all fine cars for nearly eight years.

Now, with the new motor, it is the greatest Hudson ever built. It is smoother, quieter, more enduring and reliable. With its superb mechanical excellence the Coach gives every essential closed car advantage, at little more than open car cost.

100 WAYS To Make Money

By BILLY WINNER

If I Bought and Sold Junk—

I WOULD let Daily Republican Want Ads help me in many ways, both in the buying and selling.

I could get junk through The Daily Republican Want Ads—people would see my message and call me to buy things they otherwise would throw away or store in some attic or cellar.

I could sell junk through The Daily Republican Want Ads, though it might not be junk as most people think of junk. I might buy a used sewing machine, a lawn mower, a sofa, or anything that some one wanted. I could sell it through The Daily Republican Want Ads at a profit. I'd start today to use them consistently.

TWENTY-FIVE years of indigestion was ended for her when she took Tanlac, declares Mrs. M. F. Streeter, well known resident of Newark, in remarkable statement to the public.

"Tanalac has made me feel like a new person and I wouldn't be without it," declared Mrs. M. F. Streeter, 273 S. 9th St., Newark, N. J.

"Off and on for twenty-five years I suffered terribly from stomach trouble. My food disagreed with me and often I could hardly retain a thing. Gas bloated me till my heart palpitated so badly I feared I had heart disease. My nerves were on edge, I couldn't sleep, suffered awful headaches and was simply all worn out.

"But five bottles of Tanlac put me in the finest health. I eat heartily without trouble afterwards, sleep soundly and have no more nervousness or headaches. My gratitude to Tanlac is unbounded."

Tanalac is sold by all good druggists.

Over 35-million bottles sold.

BLOSSOMING SEASON OF THE POPULAR FLOWERS

The following table of the blooming season of the more common and popular annuals will give a hint as to when seeds should be planted early. The season is based on their normal bloom from seed planted in the open ground as soon as workable, when otherwise the abbreviation (Tr.) will indicate that they are transplanted from early sowing either in the house, frame or from a greenhouse:

Asters—July to October.
Ageratum—June to frost.
Alyssum—June to frost.
Antirrhinum (snapdragon)—June to frost (Tr.).
Aretotis—June to frost (Tr.).
Balsam—June to September.
Cosmos—June to frost (Tr.).
Celosia (coxeomb)—June to September.
Calliopsis—July to September.
Centaurea (bachelor's button)—May to September.
Chrysanthemum, annual—August to October.

Canary bird vine—June to frost.
Calendula—June to frost (Tr.).
Cardinal climber—July to frost (Tr.) recommended.

Cypress vine—July to frost.
Dianthus (pinks)—July to frost.
Dimorphotheca (orange daisy)—June to frost (Tr.).

Datura—August to frost.
Delphinium (larkspurs)—June to frost.

Dolichos (hyacinth bean)—July to frost.
Everlastings (straw-flowers)—August to frost.

Eschschia (Cal. poppy)—July to frost.

Gaillardia, annual—July to frost.

Godezia—August to frost.

Gypsophila, annual—June to frost.

Helianthus (sunflower)—August to frost.

Heliotrope—May to frost (Tr.).

Huanemannia (bush poppy)—August to frost.

Lobelia—May to frost (Tr.).

Lupins, annual—August to Sept.

Mariagolds—June to frost (Tr.).

Mignonette—July to Sept.

Mirabilis (four o'clock)—July to frost.

Morning glory—July to frost.

Nasturtium—July to frost.

Nicotiana—July to frost.

Nigella (love in a mist)—July to Sept.

Pansy—May to frost (Tr.).

Petunia—May to frost (Tr.).

Phlox Drummondii—May to frost (Tr.).

Poppy—May to August.

Portulaca—July to frost.

Rudbeckia (annual cornflower)—July to Sept.

Salpiglossis—June to Sept. (Tr.).

Statice—July to August.

Salvia—May to frost (Tr.).

Scabiosa—July to frost.

Stocks—June to frost (Tr.).

Sweet peas—May and June (Tr.).

Schizanthus—June to frost (Tr.).

Torenia—July to Sept.

Vinca, bedding—July to frost.

Viola, bedding—June to frost.

Virginia stock—May to frost, successive sowings.

Verbena—May to frost (Tr.).

Wallflower, annual—September-October.

Zinnia—June to frost (Tr.).

Continuous bloom in all cases is dependent upon keeping the fading flowers picked and seed pods from forming. This is particularly true of such annuals as larkspurs and annual poppies, whose blooming season is brief if seeds are allowed to mature. Some annuals have a short season of bloom, to be renewed by successive sowing, such as the brilliant edging annual, Virginia stock.

WOMEN SPEND MORE ON THEIR EASTER FINERY

Women of America are spending approximately fifteen percent more on their Easter finery this year than last.

United Press dispatches from cities in all parts of the country today told of an unusual rush of spring shopping.

Modistes of Fifth Avenue, New York, say that while Egyptian modes are available in abundance, and undoubtedly will be worn by thousands many buyers are now swinging away from these styles.

The big New York stores are doing "better than would be expected from the weather" and sales show an increase of about 13 percent over last year.

Despite Boston's winter weather a slight increase is shown. In the matter of styles, Egypt and the second empire are running a close race.

Sales are slightly heavier in San Francisco and the Egyptian craze is noticeable in novelties.

St. Louis sales are reported a little heavier than last year.

All leading "Loop" stores in Chicago report a substantial increase over last year. Marshall Field and Company said buying is heavy despite cold weather and early Easter. Increases are estimated at 10 percent.

In Philadelphia a 15 percent increase is reported by the large department stores. Egyptian collars are being bought by women in large numbers.

Easter buying is ten percent greater this year in Kansas City as compared to last year.

"Very much bigger than last year" is the way Detroit store managers described this year's Easter buying. Buying started earlier and is 10 percent heavier in Oklahoma City. In New Orleans this year's buying exceeded 1920, which was the heaviest sales year in the history of the city.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Bootleggers" Here Friday

"The Bootleggers" is coming to town. There may be several here now, but the Mystic Theatre is responsible for the announcement that the new film sensation, "The Bootleggers," will be the attraction on Friday only.

A great deal of importance is attached to this engagement as the bootlegging subject is now universally discussed and the menace of it has indeed become serious.

How a young naval aero officer ran the gang leader down is one of the most thrilling stories ever filmed. The chase covers land, sea and in the air, and the death-defying episodes are a revelation.

The cast of "The Bootleggers" is headed by well-known stars, including Paul Panzer (famous star of "The Perils of Pauline"), Walter Miller (remembered from "The Stealers"), and Norma Shearer.

Do not miss this extraordinary attraction. It's a clean picture for the whole family.

At Princess Again Today

A local event of considerable importance in the photoplay world took place yesterday at the Princess Theatre, with the first presentation in this city of Laurette Taylor in a screen version of her most famous role, the title part of "Peg O' My Heart." The brilliant star of the stage was seen by many for the first time at "Peg," and to these especially the occasion was a memorable one. In its celluloid form the celebrated play by J. Hartley Manners is destined to win new greatness; and the charming star an even greater renown. The picture will be shown again today.

Miss Taylor's "Peg" is a decided contribution to screen artistry. It is an effective reply to those who continually clamor "what's wrong with the movies?" The next time picture fans hear that complaint, send the knocker to see Laurette Taylor in "Peg O' My Heart." If he doesn't come away singing the praises of all concerned in the making of this photoplay as an art, he is either blind or a moron.

Once again "Peg" lives on the screen. Once again hundreds of thousands will thrill to the woes of little Peg, and once again will they rejoice with her in her happiness. For Peg is back again, and she is destined to stay a long while.

HARDWARE

AS PEOPLE SOW,

SHALL THEY REAP

oats. Sow sparingly and you reap sparingly.

We always expect to reap more than we sow but of the same kind. I have seen the name of Parks written in living green because the seed was sown to form the letters.

Our daily acts are the seeds which we sow and by them we are writing our name. We can now tell the form our name is taking. We are either writing the name of Jesus or the Devil into our life.

"They that plow iniquity and sow wickedness shall reap the same." The increase will probably be sixty or seventy or a hundred fold.

The description of such people is found in the first Psalm. "They are like the chaff which the wind driveth away. They, the ungodly, shall not stand in the judgment nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous."

Our text does not say sow to the wind, but the thing which they have been sowing is the wind.

"The wind" denotes the vanity and nothingness of human effort. They weary themselves to no purpose. Their labor is more than lost, it is vain, injurious.

When harvest comes they are grieved, disappointed and reap only ruin.

"The whirlwind" is the wrath of the Lamb as described in Revelation 6:16. It takes the descriptive form of a tempest from which the people hide themselves in caves and rocks of the mountains and cry to the mountains and rocks "Fall on us."

As the whirlwind of the desert sweeps along and carries destruction with it, so does sin with its increasing power.

The Children of Israel sowed the wind when they built the golden calf at Horeb. And today the memory of their deed is a standing grief to Jehovah and a warning to the world. They reaped the whirlwind later when the ten tribes were carried to Assyria and the two tribes to Babylon. The result of the turning from God was the whirlwind of captivity. Kings and rulers who forget God sow the wind. Thus did Pharaoh when he tried to thwart God's plan with Israel in Egypt. Thus did Ahab when he married the idolatrous, unbelieving, wicked Jezebel who slew the prophets of God.

Careless parents sow to the wind when they forget to train their children in the fear of God. Eli forgot his sons while he was so absorbed in his own great work.

Wicked men and women, prodigals who waste their substance in riotous living are among those described in this text. They are sowing the wind. Without a question they will reap the whirlwind.

Unbelievers are sowing to the wind. Among these are men and women of good moral character who leave out Jesus Christ.

Here must be placed those who have no place for God in their thinking.

In this class must be placed those who would try to climb into heaven by some other way.

They "shall eat the fruit of their own way." Their destruction shall come as a whirlwind.

The Man Christ Jesus is the only refuge God has provided.

A show of religion without substance will not help.

Flee to this refuge or you will fall by your own wickedness.

Hanan was hanged on the gallows he had erected for Mordecai.

The enemies of Daniel met death in the den of lions where they expected to put Daniel to death.

The men of Babylon formed a social compact to defeat God's purpose and were themselves scattered.

Pope Alexander VI died of poisoned wines intended for his guests.

"Ashes always fly in the face of him who throws them."

Our conclusion is this. There is a close connection between this life and the next. Then as we hope to reap let us sow the seed.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned that the Board of Commissioners of Rush County, Indiana, at the office of the Auditor in Rushville, Indiana, will receive sealed proposals for the Harry McManus et al Highway as set out in the plans and specifications, profiles and requisitions now on file in the office of the Auditor.

Said sealed proposals will be opened and the contract awarded for said improvement on the 14th day of April, 1923.

Bids or proposals will be received up to 10 o'clock A. M. on said date. The said improvement is located in Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana, and more particularly known as the Harry McManus et al Highway.

The estimated cost of said improvement is $20,870.00.

Bids will be for the completion of the said improvement in accordance with the plans, profile and specifications in the office of the Auditor and shall include all labor and material for said work. In no case will extra compensation be allowed for any additional work alleged to have been done by the contractor or contractors to whom is awarded the contract.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a personal or surety bond in the sum equal to double the amount of the bid filed for the work bid on, to be approved by the Board of Commissioners. Said bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the work; the sureties, if personal, shall be resident freeholders of the State of Indiana, one of whom shall be a resident of Rush County.

Said bond shall be for the benefit of any person, persons or corporation who shall suffer any loss or damage by reason of any such bidder failing or neglecting to enter into a contract to perform such work awarded on the bid or to carry out the same in any particular or to pay for any labor or material which may have been furnished to any such contractor or contractors or to any sub-contractor, agent or superintendent under him, in the construction of said work.

Said contract will be let as a whole to the lowest responsible bidder upon affidavit of noncollusion, which must be submitted with the bid, and upon failure to submit such affidavit such proposal or bid will be rejected and the board reserves the right to reject any and all bids. Time for the completion of said work will be agreed upon after the letting of said contract by the Commissioners and successful bidder.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given by Henry W. Beckner as Trustee of Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana, that at 10:00 o'clock A. M. on WEDNESDAY, APRIL 11, 1923, at the office of the County Superintendent of Schools, in Rushville, Indiana, he will receive sealed proposals for the construction of a school building in Jackson Township, Rush County, Indiana.

At the same time and place bids will also be received for the installation of

(a) The installation of heating and ventilating system; (b) plumbing and sewerage system; and (c) electrical work, all in accordance with the plans and specifications heretofore adopted and approved by said Trustee and the Advisory Board of said township, which plans and specifications are now on file in the office of said Trustee and of the State Board of Accounts.

The estimated cost of the proposed building, completed is $49,000.00. All bids must be in writing on forms prescribed by the law of the State of Indiana, and delivered to said Trustee on or before the time mentioned herein.

Each bid on the general construction shall be accompanied by a certified check for $500.00, payable to said Trustee; each bid for the heating and ventilating contract shall be accompanied by a certified check for $300.00; each bid for the plumbing and sewerage disposal shall be accompanied by a certified check for $200.00; each bid for the electric wiring shall be accompanied by the certified check for $100.00. These checks to be held by said Trustee as a guarantee of good faith that the bidders will enter into a contract and execute a bond for the full amount of his bid, approved by said Trustee and Advisory Board, for the due performance thereof, if his bid is accepted. The checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned when the contract has been awarded and entered into. Should the successful bidder fail to enter into a contract and execute such bond he shall forfeit such certified checks as liquidated damages for the use and benefit of said township.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the township Trustee and at the office of Karl P. Hinkle, Architect, 108 Heinemann Building, Connersville, Indiana.

A deposit of $15.00 will be required of prospective bidders for plans and specifications for each branch of work taken from the office of said Architect, which amount will be returned in full in case the said plans are returned on the day of letting and a bona fide bid is submitted by the contractor. Should the bidder fail in one of said requirements only the sum of $5.00 shall be refunded to him but should he fail in the observance of both conditions he shall forfeit the full amount of said deposit.

Each bidder shall stamp or write his name on the back of the drawing or covering of the specifications used by him in preparing his proposals.

Said contract will be let in four parts as stated above, to the lowest responsible bidder, who upon the award of a contract shall give a bond to the approval of the Trustee and said board for the benefit of any person, persons or corporations, who shall suffer any loss or damage by the reason of such bidder failing or neglecting to perform the work awarded him by said Trustee and to pay for all labor or materials furnished him or any sub-contractors in the construction of said work.

The Trustee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Dated at Rushville, Indiana, this 20th day of March, 1923.

NOTICE FOR IMPROVEMENT OF HIGHWAY

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed in my office for the grading, draining and paving with crushed stone of a certain highway in Richland Township, Rush County, Indiana, which petition is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

State of Indiana, Rush County, ss:
In the matter of the petition for the Improvement of a Public Highway in Richland Township, Rush County, Indiana, by Laverne Dunn et al.

TO THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RUSH COUNTY, INDIANA

We, the undersigned petitioners, would represent and show to your Honorable Board, that this petition is signed by more than fifty adult freeholders and legal voters of Richland Township, Rush County, Indiana; that there is now an existing public highway over and upon the following described route:

Commencing at the township line between Noble and Richland Townships at the northeast corner of Section Five (5) and the northwest corner of Section Four (4), Township Twelve (12) north, Range Eleven (11) east and at the north end of the hereinafter described public Highway, which connects with said Township line at said northeast corner of Section Five and said northwest corner of Section Four (4), Township and Range aforesaid, and running thence south over and upon the line of present public highway between said Sections Four (4) and Five (5), Township and Range aforesaid, to the Rushville and New Salem or what is commonly known as the Brookville Road and State Highway No. 39.

Your petitioners would further represent; that said public highway is now established its entire length and breadth, being 32 feet in width and connects at the north end thereof with a free macadam road known as the Richland and Noble Township line Public Highway, and the dividing line between Richland and Noble Townships, Rush County, Indiana, and at the south end thereof with a free gravel road known as the Rushville and New Salem Public Highway or State Highway No. 39; that the same is now traversed and used by Township School delivery conveyance, Rural Free Mail Delivery Route, and a greatly used public highway and said public highway in the winter months becomes almost impassable at times and frequently; that there is no incorporated town or city in said Richland Township and said public highway sought to be improved does not run into or through the limit of any incorporated city or town and is less than three miles in length or about one mile in length, and should be improved by paving with crushed stone and stone screenings thereon to the width of 16 feet upon the traveled portion thereof after being graded and drained and improved entirely by grading, draining and paving and as aforesaid and in all to the width of 32 feet, and when so done and improved the same will be of great public utility and the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom.

WHEREFORE, your petitioners pray of your Honorable Board that the aforesaid public highway be approved by grading, draining and paving the same with crushed stone covered with stone screenings, the travel portion thereof to be paved with such materials to not less than 16 feet its entire length and said public highway to be established as now laid out and dedicated its entire length and breadth; that all necessary drains, side-drains, bridges, culverts and sewers therein be so constructed as to make said public highway a complete macadam public highway and when so improved as herein prayed for, the same will be of great public utility and the costs thereof will be less than the benefits derived therefrom.

Your petitioners further pray that said improvement be constructed and said public highway improved in all things in accordance with Sections 62 to 83, inclusive of the Acts of the General Assembly of 1905 entitled "An Act Concerning Public Highways" and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto.

TO HOLD A PARTY CONFERENCE SOON

With Harding's 1924 Campaign Under Way Leaders Will Discuss Raising Money

MUST FIRST WIN THE WEST

Hope Of Swinging West Into Line Principal Reason For President's Summer Tour

Palm Beach, Fla., March 22.—With Harding's 1924 campaign formally underway, a conference of party leaders will be held soon in Washington or Chicago to discuss means of raising money for an intensive "educational drive." The purpose will be to inform the voters through all possible mediums, of the benefits to be derived from continuing the president in office for another four years and maintaining Republican control of congress. This drive will be preliminary to the 1924 campaign.

By HERBERT W. WALKER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 19. — The "Winning of the west" will be the first objective of President Harding's campaign for re-election, which has been definitely started by the executive's close political associate, Attorney General Daugherty.

The president and his political advisers are understood here to have decided that to attain a republican victory in 1924 the great bulk of the states in the middle and far west must be carried. In this respect, the president will use the same political strategy as was employed by his predecessor, Woodrow Wilson, who in 1916 nosed out Charles E. Hughes by winning the west.

Hope of swinging the west into line behind the Republican standard is the principal reason for the president's trans-continental tour this summer. He does not wish to make an extensive campaign tour following his re-nomination in June 1924, and therefore he must get the record of his administration before the west this year.

A study of the results of the congressional election last November has convinced the Republican political chiefs that the party must be strong in the west if it is to succeed.

Governor Al Smith's big majority in New York state with Democratic gains in such states as Massachusetts, New Jersey and Maryland, make it all the more necessary to make gains in the west, these political observers believe. Victory cannot be obtained by carrying the rock-ribbed Republican states of Pennsylvania, Illinois and New England, they declare.

In most of the eastern states where prohibition is still an issue the Republicans are "drier" than the Democrats, and this, according to some of the G. O. P. leaders, will jeopardize their strength, although it may re-act favorably westward.

In the last election the west manifested some strange political upheavals which are indicative of its independence, but Republican leaders believe the president, by his personality and his speeches can counteract these movements on his tour.

The president never has been west of the Missouri river and he is anxious to obtain the real viewpoint of this great region in order to make some important recommendations for the party's 1924 platform.

Already invitations from scores of chautauquas, county and state fairs and other gatherings are pouring into the White House from the west.

It is now believed that the president may make as many as forty addresses on the tour, in addition to many short talks from the rear platform of his special train. His expected trip to Alaska after a strenuous west-bound speaking tour will give him the opportunity to rest up before a similar one east-bound.

ACTRESSES TO DENY WITNESSES' CHARGES

Lorna Ambler and "Miss S. L." Are Named in Geraldine Farrar's Divorce Suit Against Tellegen

DETECTIVE TESTIFIES

New York, March 22.—Actresses named by witnesses for Geraldine Farrar in her divorce suit against Lou Tellegen are expected to come forward when the case is resumed Friday and deny the charges against them.

These actresses are Lorna Ambler, an Australian, and one known in the testimony only as "Miss S. L." Witnesses mentioned a third woman as being friendly with Tellegen, a "Miss Clifford" of California.

Tellegen, who is "on the road" in a play, declares he is not much interested in the divorce proceedings now on before a referee here and will go no intimation of what course he contends to pursue.

Norman J. Fitzsimmons, a private detective, testified that he saw Tellegen—who at the time was playing the leading role in Don Juan here—hugging and kissing Miss Ambler in the darkened vestibule of an apartment house. He described a "soul kiss" Tellegen gave "Miss S. L." which he alleged continued quite some time. This occurred on a secluded bench in Riverside park, he said.
